Thetas in the News

Why Sleep!

At 3:30 on the morning of January 23 Saidee Hodgson, Gamma Delta, came gaily home from Theta initiation and banquet, having added another 14 hours of sleeplessness to the 100 she had already contributed to the cause of science. Dr A. S. Edwards, head of the University of Georgia department of psychology, believed Saidee had set a record, declaring that to his knowledge the longest anyone had gone without sleep was 90 hours, in 1896.

Saidee, with five other psychology students, three girls and two men, had stayed awake 100 hours in an experiment conducted by Dr Edwards to determine the effects of sleeplessness on mind and body. The subjects were told to live normally and go through their regular routine of classes, meals, exercise and recreation—but stay awake. Student assistants kept watch throughout the experiment, using brisk walks, conversation, bridge, reading aloud, coffee, and sometimes even prodding to help the sleepless ones keep in that condition.

Eighteen tests daily for five days furnished data on reactions, steadiness, color perception, grip, typing, memory, temperance, and visual ability. Physical tests throughout the ordeal showed the yawners normal, and on the day following its completion all felt "very well." None had headaches and all looked as if they had had their eight hours of slumber with regularity.

This experiment received much publicity in the press of Georgia and even rated a half column in the New York Times of January 23.

Nose for News

Although not hereditary, love of the news hunt is definitely in my blood. There is something about the thrill of the chase that fascinates me.

It's all a long story and goes back to my editing a yearbook in high school. It continued through college where I majored in journalism, edited the humor magazine, served as associate editor of the yearbook and first society editor and then campus editor of the newspaper. I also did publicity work for the university.

College journalism courses are decidedly good background for newspaper work but you can't beat the actual experience it's so easy to pick up on school publications.

And for further experience, after graduation I went to work as a sort of Jill of all editorial work on the Daily Republic at Mitchell, South Dakota's third largest city but a far cry from a metropolitan center. That paper operated on a five-day week plan, so I was assigned to take over the work of various staff members on their days off. One day a week I was society editor, one day police reporter and so on down to even being the "pigs per pound" editor.

I even did a little punching out of news on the Associated Press printers—but very little, for after my first attempt, we had a long distance call from the state AP bureau asking if our machines were out of order. It was a simple weather report I had started out to punch, but on the wire I garbled it so it resembled a code message in German more than anything else. On the side, I did a weekly shopping column.

After a year and a half of this very excellent and varied experience I came to Minneapolis to join the staff of the Star as the only woman reporter in the city, aside from society and woman's page writers. That was a year ago and since that time I've done general assignment reporting, features, interviews and for a while a daily fashion column.

I've helped drag girl suicides from the Mississippi. I've been thrown out of everything from the city jail to Katharine Hepburn's private train. I've interviewed everyone from belligerent itinerants to Mrs Franklin D. Roosevelt, Nelson Eddy, Rudy Vallee and scores of other celebrities of all kinds. I've been assigned to interview the three-months old son of one of Minnesota's all-American football players and the ghost of the last man hanged in the state as it stalked on the forty-first anniversary of its having become a ghost. Yes, and I've written an Easter bonnet's conception of Easter.

I've gone along with a 21-year old girl parachute jumper on her first leap to record her reactions. I've served as a maid in a downtown hotel and ridden an elephant in a circus to get stories. I've conducted a "take home a baby for Christmas" campaign to aid an orphanage in securing good homes for its charges.

I was once assigned to climb a 32-story building to write a feature on just how tired I got. I pounded out the feature but I didn't make the trudge. The photographer and I snitched a bit on the readers. We just stepped off the elevator every eight floors and took pictures of me in the various stages of disintegration, and you're the first to be the wiser.

I have had a few short squibs in magazines and in my spare time I write publicity and advertising for a downtown hotel, the Francis Drake.

But most of all I have fun. There is no place in the world where it can be had more completely than in a city room noisy with breaking news.—MARJORIE BURNS, Alpha Rho, from Mortar board quarterly, Jan. '38.

Mother Groups Active

Because mothers form an important part of every phase of the growing girl's life, many have been the mothers' clubs formed in the different sororities of Michigan State college. Some of the Greek letter mothers' clubs have been organized entirely for social enjoyment, while others have combined into their groups a system of mixing "business with pleasure." . . .

The Kappa Alpha Theta mothers have had two large meetings since January, 1936, at which time they discussed the activities of their Theta daughters, considering the helpful things which they could do for the group. After the opening of the new sorority house, the Lansing and East Lansing mothers of the sorority group made kitchen curtains.

Their first large meeting came on May 8, after the May Morning Y.W.C.A. breakfast. The girls gave a luncheon for their mothers, followed by an afternoon meeting of the Mothers' club. Officers elected at this time were Mrs Crossman Pratt of Lansing, president; Mrs Lester Taylor of Flint, vice president; and Mrs D. H. O'Hara of East Lansing, secretary. It was also decided at this meeting that the club would use the proceeds of its benefit affairs to buy new silverware for the girls.

The second meeting was held last fall on the Union porch, while the Dads of the Thetas were being entertained at the chapter house for dinner. At this time, they welcomed many new Lansing and East Lansing mothers to the club and made plans for the fall and new year.—Lansing newspaper.

[To date Beta Pi has received from its Mothers' club (besides enthusiastic support and service) three dozen each of dinner knives, dinner forks, salad forks, teaspoons, soup spoons, six serving spoons, three gravy ladles, and, as a Christmas gift, three dozen dessert forks.]

From School Girl to Ideal Wife

If Seattle's wives of 1947 can cook nourishing and attractive meals, dress well on a limited budget, and remember to kiss their husbands as though they meant it, Mrs Dora S. Lewis will feel that the job she began this week will have been successful as well as interesting.

Mrs Lewis, who has made a name for herself nationally as a home economics expert, came back to Seattle from Washington, D.C. this week to become head of the home economics department of the Seattle public schools. . . .

Mrs Lewis, who left a post with the United States Office of education to come to Seattle, talked of some of the things home economics means in the life of students.

"Today's homes," she said, "are consuming units. Not so long ago they were producing units. Where families of other generations raised vegetables and milked their own cows and, not so long ago, made their own clothes, the average family of today must buy.

"So the duties and the problems of a wife and mother have changed. She must know how to handle her problems efficiently. And to meet these problems the science of home economics has risen from mere instruction in cooking and sewing to include a lot of other things.

"It teaches the selection of ready-made garments, of fabrics and other material. It teaches the buying of food, and the fundamentals of housing problems—trains people for the practical side of every-day living. It touches on family relations. It's as modern as today's newspaper."

Mrs Lewis is a graduate of Washington State college, and holds a master's degree from Columbia university. She began her teaching career before she attended college, picked it up again as dean of women at Cheney normal school thereafter, and in 1927 to 1929 taught home economics at the University of Hawaii.

She came back to this state to accept a post as state supervisor of home economics and then, in 1935, went to Washington, D.C. to take charge of federal home economics work in Pacific coast states.

"But I've always wanted to work in Seattle," she says. "I've always wanted to be in my home town because, luckily, it has a progressive school system. And now I'm here. I'm very happy about it."—Seattle Times, Dec. 10, 1937.

Dora Sumarlidason Lewis wears a Theta badge, as an initiate of Alpha Sigma chapter.

Houses at Cornell Expand

Recalling by contrast the hardships of the first women students at Cornell university because of the lack of living quarters on or near the campus in the early seventies, two new sorority houses have arisen in the past few months, while others have been remodeled and redecorated, giving an air of permanency to the use of sorority houses as supplements to Cornell's extensive dormitory system.

It was due to the beneficence of Henry W. Sage that Sage college, the first women's dormitory at Cornell, was built in 1875. Prophetic of the status which women now enjoy at Cornell is the inscription on the cornerstone. It reads:

"In return for this gift the Cornell university is pledged to provide and forever maintain facilities for the education of women as broadly as for men."

Prudence Risley hall, built in 1913, and Balch halls, completed in 1929, together with Sage college, several outside houses and the sorority houses, provide accommodations for more than a thousand women.

With the completion of the Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma lodges this autumn, Cornell women for the first time are living in sorority houses specifically designed for this purpose. Since last spring Kappa Alpha Theta, the first sorority to open a chapter at Cornell, has built a lodge on the site of the house occupied by that group since 1920.

The architecture is Renaissance, with Georgian influence. Adjacent to the women's dormitories, on a high and commanding location, the building is of steel frame and poured concrete, faced with natural brick in rose shades and trimmed with stone. It houses twenty-six girls.

Kappa Kappa Gamma, second oldest sorority in order of founding, has opened a new lodge constructed of Sheffield Colonial brick in the Georgian style on the site of the old house, with quarters for twenty girls. Both houses were designed by Carl C. Tallman, Ithaca architect.

Activity toward expansion and improvement is visible in each of the thirteen sorority houses at Cornell. Alpha Phi has built an additional wing and completely remodeled its exterior in late Georgian design. Pi Beta Phi purchased new property, enlarged and re-decorated the house and equipped it with modern furnishings.

A year ago Delta Delta Delta rented a spacious house owned by the university and equipped it throughout. Other sororities have purchased new furniture, redecorated interiors, and otherwise improved their living quarters, placing them on a par with the university-maintained residential halls in comfort and attractiveness.

With enrollment of women at Cornell exceeding the facilities of the dormitory system, the move toward attractive permanent quarters for sorority women is viewed with approval by national sorority officers and university officials.—New York Times, Sunday, Dec. 12, 1937.

A regular feature "Alumni quiz" in the DePauw alumnus, January issue, asks—"What was the first play ever presented at DePauw and who had the leading role?" The answer is—Esmeralda, and the heroine was Kate Hammond, Alpha of Kappa Alpha Theta, A.B. 1881.

The Los Angeles alumni of DePauw university entertained, December 8, 1937, the university's alumni secretary, who awarded medals to the oldest graduates of DePauw who were present. Among those receiving medals were two Thetas: Mary Stevenson Buchtel '73, the first girl initiated by the Founders of Kappa Alpha Theta, and Alice Allen Hawk '75.

Maude Bell Plowman, Upsilon, is busy as a speaker on phases of art, many of her talks being illustrated by etchings of her husband, who was one of America's best known etchers. In November she spoke at Emma Willard and Russel Sage colleges. In January to the Art League in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, and to the Albany (New York) Women's club. Later engagements of Mrs Plowman include a conference with the chairmen of Massachusetts art clubs, a talk before the Print club of Albany, and at the art club convention in Connecticut.

Mrs Kite Is Given Third Term as Young Women's Group Chief

For the third consecutive year, Mrs William C. Kite was elected president of the Young Women's Christian association. This is the maximum term permitted by organization rules.

Two important changes have occurred during Mrs Kite's two terms as president. Club activities have been consolidated into a group work department and a household training course has been added.

Among other officers elected was Mrs O. K. Wetzel, treasurer.

Following the election, the new board discussed plans for the special spring campaign to help lift the association's debt caused by unpaid pledges. A definite date for the campaign probably will not be set until February.—Oklahoma City Times, Jan. 20.

Mary Margaret McBride brought over from France a goat presented her by a joking friend. The creature had "it" for ship news reporters. It was held in quarantine through the government's vigilance against foreign goat-disease and was finally deported, making news every step of the way. Although Miss McBride is known to millions by her articles in national magazines and for the national broadcasts of her other self, Martha Deane, she tells me that she seems still to exist to a wide public only as a woman whose goat turned out to be an undesirable alien.—News clipping.

This is for always. By Gladys Taber.

A box of chocolates should ordinarily go with this sort of boy-and-girl-in-love story. But the descriptions of food set before the Wisconsin lumbermen makes candy seem pitifully inadequate.

Anne and her mother and father, who owned the big mills and lived on the right side of the river, also ate, but they imported delicacies from all over the world. Karl, football hero and mill worker, lived on the wrong side of the river, and in spite of being as desperately in love with Anne as a big blond Swede could be, he ate venison steak for breakfast, coffee with cream so thick it had to be spooned out, for supper rabbit stew with noodles fried crisp, Swedish bread braided with sugar and apple cake.

He ate his way right through the secret log road to the rival company, through the fights with the crooked loggers, through the battle of wits with the sneaking office-man, right to success with Anne and her father.

The story leaves the reader longing for the pine woods and a square meal.—New York Times, Feb. 6.

The only woman [member of New York city's council], Mrs Earle, went to Adelphi college, the New York School for social work and the School for social research. She has been active in social and nonpartisan political work for years and has many interests. Mayor La Guardia appointed her to his Committee on City planning and to the City industrial relations board. She likes to sail a boat and grow flowers at Bellport, her summer home.—New York Times, Jan. 30.

THETA CLUB ENTHUSIASM

"Following Mrs Dietrich's example, I, too, live in a strange town where I know no one. Do you have a record of any other Thetas living in Altoona? Perhaps there will be enough to form a club. If there aren't enough for even that, then we'll plan just a good old get-together," wrote Grace Tittle Massy, Beta.

And, unfortunately it has to be just a "get together," for only two other Thetas have been located in Altoona—Janice Kauffman, Beta Phi, and Cora DeBray Shannon, Alpha Omega. Can you send us word of any other club prospect in that neighborhood? Only two more needed for a club.

Marjorie Morrill Learned, Upsilon, moved to Shreveport, Louisiana, and wrote Central office to know if there were any Thetas living there. Plenty of them; so a list went to Mrs Learned, and a note to one of the "plenty" whom the Grand secretary knew personally, asking her to look up Mrs L.

What happened: "Carolyn Whited Barham and I called on Marjorie Morrill Learned the same day I received your note. The result of our visit, due chiefly to the efforts of Carolyn and Mrs Learned, was a Founders'-day luncheon, which thirteen Thetas attended. There was little opportunity for business discussion at the luncheon so we are to meet February 2 to discuss the forming of a Theta alumnae club. Thank you for writing me about Mrs Learned. I enjoyed meeting her. She's a most enthusiastic worker for Theta." Shirley Scales Weber, the writer of this letter, and Carolyn are from Alpha Theta chapter.

Theta on Mount Oread!!

KAPPA chapter members can hardly wait to broadcast their good news. Like Iota (and, by the way, Iota and Kappa are 1881 Theta twins) this chapter has a new house, into which the girls have just moved.

Perhaps our "broadcast" will mean a little more if we explain which branch of the family we are. For more than half a century Kappa chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta has been part of the University of Kansas, at Lawrence; so we have known all but the first decade of Theta history. As has been true of all fraternities, the Thetas at Kansas university had their day of small beginnings. Several members of our present alumnae club were part of that time; and as we older Thetas pay our first visits to the new house, inevitably we glance back across the years to the early Kappa chapter, not to make invidious comparisons, but with reminiscent tenderness for those beginnings and joy in the later growth. We know that the new house began fifty years ago, in the days when Kansas Thetas were collecting, from Lawrence homes and boarding-houses, the chosen few who were Kappa chapter's new pledges, were pinning on each one the black and gold ribbon emblem, and were marching them all to sit in the Theta row at the daily chapel service. Many of those pledges developed more than a local interest in Theta. One of them, Miss Agnes Emery, was the first editor of the Theta magazine. She is still a valued alumna, as interested as ever. There is, indeed, general rejoicing in the alumnae club that their fifty-seven-year-old chapter is to live in a charming new house, on attractively landscaped ground, and will entertain its friends in artistic modern rooms.

The history of Theta housing includes the usual years of meetings in private homes, a hired hall which served as a chapter room, fraternity life centered in a too-small rented house, and finally our first real Theta home, built for the chapter and occupied in 1912.

This house, a white colonial frame dwelling, homelike and delightful, represented the united efforts of all Kappa chapter, college and alumnae; efforts greatly aided by the co-operation of Professor and Mrs Frank Heywood Hodder (Florence Moon, Iota) who owned the ground which became Theta property. This house has been Theta's home for twenty-five years, and many a Theta has wondered if she could ever love another house as devotedly. But after numerous remodelings and enlargements, we have been forced to admit that Kappa chapter has outgrown its first house, and we have hoped and planned for a new home, no less lovable than the old one, but adequate in space and complete in modern details. The depression halted our plans until this year, when the sale of our old house and the possibility of financing the new one have helped to make our dream come true. We are glad that our old Theta home is to serve another group of students, a men's fraternity, small enough to find the house adequate.

Kappa chapter owes more than it can ever repay to the devotion and wisdom of its building board, on whom the great responsibility of the project has rested. The members of this board are: Miss Jeannette Wheeler, chairman, and Mrs Helen Schaeffer Barteldes, Mrs Nellie Frances Griswold Palmer, Mrs Jeannette Wagstaff Woodruff, all of Lawrence; Miss Mary Ellen DeMotte, of the college chapter, and Mrs Jessie Baldrige Lebrecht of Kansas City. Mrs Lebrecht, former Grand president of Kappa Alpha Theta, was also a member of the furniture committee, of which the other members were: Miss Helen Wagstaff, Lawrence; Mrs Katherine Keizer Tanner, Kansas City; and Miss Jeannette Bowen, of the college chapter. These committees have supplemented, with tireless interest and with understanding and skill, the work of architect, contractor, and interior decorator.

Some years ago the building board purchased a site for a new Theta house. The location is interesting, being in one of the older residence portions of the city, on the eastern slope of Mount Oread, a fitting location for the home of one of Kansas university's oldest fraternities. This lot is closely associated with the beginnings of Lawrence, having early come into the possession of one of the settlers from New England in the 1850's. One name, at least, connected with the first ownership of this land is in the early roll of Thetas. A little later the lot now owned by the Thetas was purchased by Paul Brooks, a prominent settler from Maine, whose house stood there for sixty years, having been torn down within the present decade. The pleasant little house had important neighbors on either side. North of it stood the large stone dwelling of John P. Usher, a member of Abraham Lincoln's cabinet; and on the south was another large residence owned and occupied for many years by J. D. Bowersock, one of Lawrence's foremost business men, and an early representative to Congress from this district. The Usher house, which still stands, has been for some years the home of Beta Theta Pi; but the Bowersock residence, the property of the Sigma Chi and for a few years occupied by them, was finally torn down and replaced by a modern house. These two fraternities are Kappa chapter's nearest neighbors. Back of these houses, Mount Oread slopes gradually to the university buildings on its summit, the entire hill affording ample ground for other fraternity houses and for the University club.

The new Theta house offers adequate room for fifty girls and their house mother. It is of Georgian colonial architecture, built of red brick, with white pillars, shutters, and trimmings. The lot on which it stands has a frontage of 190 feet and is 300 feet deep; the house, itself, stands 75 feet back from the street.

The building includes three stories besides the basement. Through the front door one enters a central hall, from which the rooms open on either side. Beside the door, on the right, is a small powder room, and back of it are the library and the house mother's suite—and a restful spot it will be for our own house mother, Mrs P. H. Klinkenburg, after her capable, but strenuous moving activities. On the left is the large living room, whose inviting fireplace will be the center of this Theta home. Behind these rooms, across the entire width of the house the girls have a sun parlor, a dining room, and a complete kitchen. With broad connecting doorways, the sun parlor, dining room, living room, and hall make one large apartment adequate for dancing or other entertaining.

One reaches the second story by a broad, easy stairway, finished in white and mahogany; and a little farther on, a second stairway leads to the third story. These two floors are almost alike, each having room space for twenty-five girls. The hall on each floor extends the depth of the house, and rooms open from it on both sides. No room is made to accommodate more than two girls, and each room has two single beds. The furniture is of maple, all new and delightfully modern. Each girl has her own chest of drawers with a large round mirror above it. There are also two closets in each room, a double study table fitted with book shelves, and two study chairs. A large easy chair, a floor-size rug, curtains of fine scrim, and excellent indirect lighting complete the necessary furnishings in these comfortable sleeping rooms.

On the second floor one room is to be used as a guest room. It is similar to the others, and furnished with twin beds, but has only one small closet, having, instead, a private bath. This room has been furnished by the Theta Mothers' club of Kansas City, one of many gifts from friends of the chapter, all of which add greatly to the value and interest of the new home.

On the third floor, instead of a guest room, the girls have an attractive little sitting room that will be much appreciated by the third floor Thetas.

The second and third floors both have two modern bath rooms, each complete, with tub, shower, lavatory and toilet equipment to care for from twelve to fourteen girls. Each bath room is finished in a different color, but all are equally attractive. The building board has reason to be proud of these rooms, which more than meet the strict requirements of the university in regard to the adequacy of bath rooms in dormitories and rooming houses.

The basement of the new house is quite as important as the rest of the building, for it will receive constant use. In addition to the furnace room, house man's quarters, and large trunk and store rooms, which occupy the rear part of the basement, there are, in the fore part, a study hall, a small laundry for the girls' use, an extra coat storage closet, a chapter room and vault, and a recreation room. Naturally, these are the last rooms to be completed, and in the first weeks of settling they are convenient places to put household goods not yet located. But it is easy to see how pleasant they will soon be. The study hall, furnished with long tables and study lights, has also a connecting lavatory and two closets with convenient bookshelves. Cleverly decorated corners in the recreation room at once attract our attention, and those of us who remember how the girls of other years needed such a room, give thanks for this one.

The new house has all the comfortable furnishings and the practical, time-and-energy-saving gadgets that our Theta pocket-books could buy. Telephone booths are conveniently placed on all floors, and the telephone system in the house is modern in every way. There is a full equipment of linen closets, china and silver cupboards, and pantries, all well located. Two electric refrigerators, and both faucet and bubbler for ice water promise cooling comfort to Thetas, even on a hot Kansas day. The floors of dining room, sun parlor, recreation room, and study hall have a textile covering of an attractive design, and all the windows on the first floor are fitted with Venetian blinds.

With the exception of the piano, all furnishings in the living room, sun parlor, and dining room are new; however, they have been so carefully chosen and seem to fit so perfectly into their places that even now the house begins to have a lived-in air. Draperies, furniture, and rugs have already become friends. The sun parlor is a particularly lovely room, with its bamboo and maple furniture, bamboo cornices for its draperies, the bamboo wall painting on one side of the room, and the oddly woven window shades which also carry out the bamboo idea. The light fixtures in this room and in the dining room, which opens from it, are alike, and are most attractive. Those in the living room are lovely prism chandeliers.

Perhaps the library appeals most definitely to the older alumnae, for here the decorator has gathered most of the pieces of living room furniture from the old house. One feels immediately at home in this room, even though the couches and chairs are all in new dress. And here, too, is the old secretary-bookcase which shelters Kappa chapter's precious set (almost complete) of bound Theta magazines.

There is still much work to be done on our new home. The landscaping of the grounds is just beginning, but it promises to be appropriate and beautiful. In the rear of the house there is a large open space where, sometime, the building board hopes the girls may have a tennis court. There is room for it, and the space appears to be intended for that purpose. Meanwhile, we take happily to our hearts the new home, which already seems not strange, but friendly. There is a welcome here for all Thetas. We ask you to call on us at 1433 Tennessee street, Lawrence, Kansas. ELINOR WILLIAMS SISSON, Rho

DUD. Whenever we visit an Alpha Chi friend, sooner or later he produces a handful of snapshots or candid camera pictures, usually including at least a few Brothers pictured in varying stages of hilarity. What happens to these photos when we want to publish them? We'd like to know. The Garnet and White Photo Contest ended in October with a dull thud—the only entry being one which would most certainly have lost us our second class mail permit. Ah, well . . . A X P, Garnet and White, Dec. 37.

Convention

WE ARE approaching the climax of the Theta biennium, the convention. The practical and spiritual values of this gathering are so much a part of our tradition, that the fraternity has long ceased to ask the "why" of a convention and wants only to be told the "how" and "where." The "how" and "where" of this thirty-fourth Grand convention have developed all sorts of interesting details since my copy went in for the January magazine. We give you here all the information you will need in order to get there, and in the next issue the executive committee of hostesses will have a word to say as to the social doings with which they fill all nooks and crannies of time not already filled by time honored activities.

Travel Costs and Directions

THE SPECIAL train and the special parties that are arranged to travel together are sent into Washington over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, the line that could give us the best and the most comprehensive service. Our train will give us all the style and comfort to which we are accustomed, and the special Pullman cars from St. Louis, Detroit, and Pittsburgh will be attached to the regular fine Baltimore and Ohio trains.

The Baltimore and Ohio is unique in having a woman with a corps of her own sex in charge of women's travel. She and the convention manager have talked the same language from the beginning, with the result that anything a railroad can do for a party like ours is being done.

Trains from all points in the west and south arrive in Washington early in the morning. Here in our national capital a day of interesting and delightful sight-seeing is being planned that will include a dinner being arranged by the Washington Thetas. Every one will want to be on hand for this gala affair. Late in the evening we will leave Washington and arrive in Spring Lake the following morning at seven.

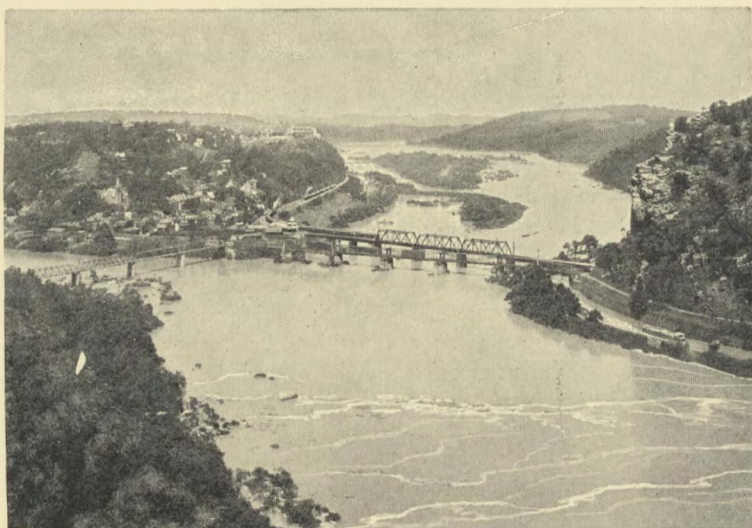

Spring Lake is an exclusive summer resort on the Jersey coast, off the beaten path of the usual traveler. Therefore, few railroad ticket agents know anything about it or how to get there. For this reason we think it will facilitate matters if you will write to Mrs W. G. Brown, Manager travel service, Baltimore and Ohio railroad, 105 West Adams street, Chicago, and tell her what cities in the east you wish to visit and the post convention trip you wish to take. She will reply immediately and give you the most direct route; tell you the cost of your transportation and whether or not it will be cheaper to buy a round trip ticket to Chicago and then re-buy from Chicago to Spring Lake, or to buy from your home town through to Spring Lake. All round trip Baltimore and Ohio tickets to New York City will be accepted by the New York Central railroad if you wish to return via that route, and these tickets will be good for stopover at Niagara Falls. Tickets also will be accepted by the Hudson river day line if one wishes to make that delightful all day cruise up the Hudson river to Albany. There is an evening train from Albany that provides direct service to Niagara Falls, arriving there in the morning, and a train that leaves Niagara Falls at 8:30 P.M. and arrives in Chicago the following morning.

If you wish to take the post convention trip to Old Virginia, Mrs Brown will quote the rail fare that will permit you to join this party. Be sure to tell her just where you wish to go after you return to Washington from this trip.

At this time we cannot tell you the cost of the sight-seeing and dinner in Washington on June 24, but we do know it will be well worth the price, whatever it is. In the morning we will visit the public buildings including the Congressional library, Supreme Court, Capitol, Pan American building and the White house. In the afternoon we will drive around the city and then to Arlington National cemetery and Mount Vernon, the Virginia plantation of George and Martha Washington.

and 7th avenue. Roxy theater is in the building and one block away at 6th avenue is Rockefeller center. As soon as we arrive in New York we will go to the Taft and get settled. The afternoon is left free for shopping until the last scheduled trip through Rockefeller center. This trip will be followed by a tour through NBC studios. Some of you may wish to stay on at the Center for dinner in the Rainbow room, or some of the less glamorous and expensive places in the building, and be handy for the Radio city Music

Historic Harper's Ferry, W.Va.

Post Convention trips:

NEW YORK CITY

Leave Spring Lake, Friday, July 1 at 9 A.M. via the Central railroad of New Jersey to Long Branch where we board a Sandy Hook steamer for the rest of the trip to New York City. This is a delightful trip across the Bay and up the Hudson river to the 42d street pier where we arrive at 11:35 A.M. This approach to the city is most interesting and inspiring.

In New York arrangements have been made for party rates at the Taft hotel and for sight-seeing trips. No meals or other features on which a savings could not be obtained are included. Some time is left free for individual use. The Taft hotel, by the way, is right in the heart of things, at 50th street hall performances that evening. The prices are 88 cents on Friday nights and 99 cents on Saturday nights.

Next morning, Saturday July 2, we will leave the hotel at 9 A.M. for a comprehensive motor tour of upper and lower Manhattan—two trips in one—a three hour drive that will take in everything from Grant's Tomb on the north to Battery Park on the south and bring you back to the hotel. The afternoon is free for a matinee, visits to Metropolitan museum, Hayden planetarium or dozens of other things. The evening is also free for the theater or other gaiety.

Sunday morning concludes the all-expense arrangements made for the party in New York City. Those who wish to remain over at the Taft must re-register and assume their own hotel expenses. The cost of these two days in New York City including transfer from the dock to the hotel, two nights at the Taft, the tours through Rockefeller center and the sight-seeing trip of upper and lower New York is $8.50.

Your return trip up the Hudson river with a stop at Niagara Falls may be made on any day, at no additional transportation cost, providing your ticket reads returning from New York via the New York Central or Baltimore and Ohio.

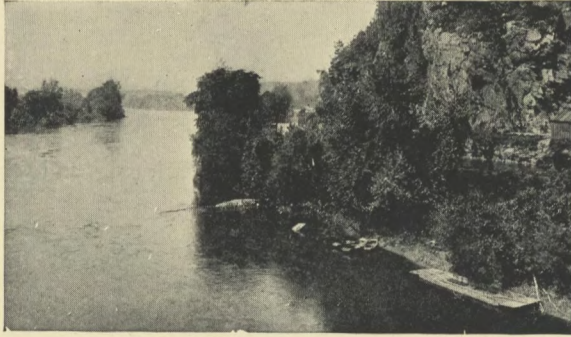

HISTORIC VIRGINIA POST CONVENTION TRIP

The lucky people who take this trip will leave Spring Lake the morning of July 1

topher Wren building on the William and Mary campus.

After a long afternoon and evening in this classic place and a comfortable night at the Williamsburg inn annex, the bus leaves the next morning for a leisurely, roundabout trip to Washington, stopping at Stafford, birthplace of Robert E. Lee; Wakefield, birthplace of George Washington, and on through Tidewater Virginia to Fredericksburg. There we will have a couple of hours to visit the Mary Ball Washington home, Kenmore, and Monroe's old law office and generally enjoy the air of antiquity.

The party arrives in Washington at 5:15

and arrive in Baltimore after lunch. The details of the afternoon have to wait on further developments, but a sight-seeing trip about the city and over to Annapolis will be arranged. Then at 6:30 that evening we board an Old Bay line boat for Norfolk, Virginia, arriving there early the next morning.

Here will be waiting a special motor coach to drive through Yorktown and Williamsburg to Jamestown for an hour and a half in the first white settlement which maintained itself in the United States. Then on back to Williamsburg, for luncheon.

I can hardly contain myself when speaking of Williamsburg. It is a thrilling, authentic American work of art, this restoration of a typical colonial city. It evokes esthetic appreciation, historical perspective, and patriotic pride. The April 1937 National geographic magazine has a detailed story of the undertaking, at a cost of some 14 million dollars to the Rockefellers. Here is found the oldest college hall in the United States, the Chris-

P.M. in time for the night trains west, north and south.

The cost of this trip including boat fare from Baltimore to Norfolk and bus fare from Williamsburg to Washington, berth on the Boat (2 to a room), sight-seeing trip to Jamestown, Yorktown and Williamsburg, one night at the hotel (2 to a room) and admission fees to all buildings in Williamsburg, Jamestown, Stafford and Fredericksburg is $17.50. Everything is included except meals, in which tastes differ. I have never thought it desirable (or possible) to standardize Thetas any more than was necessary to obtain special service at special prices. The meals on this jaunt will run to around $5.

Party rates can be secured only by the cash purchase of service for more than 20 persons. Therefore, we must have the checks in early to assure these prices. Refunds can be had if emergencies arise, of course.

If some visitors wish to go first to New York, and later to Williamsburg, arrangements can be made for a party to sail from New York to Norfolk, if enough express a desire for such a plan.

ESSEX AND SUSSEX COSTS

The hotel rate for a double room, with twin beds and bath, is $7.50 a day, per person. A room occupied singly will be $8.00 a day. Large rooms with three beds will be $7.00 each, a day. Double rooms, with bath between, for four, $7.00 a day. Double room connecting with single room and bath, $7.50. There are also a few single rooms that have only running water and are near a public bath, for $7.00 a day.

There will be no charge for transportation to and from the railroad station, and baggage is cared for as part of the service. The rates include the privileges of the private bathing beach together with use of lockers, showers, drying suits, etc.

There will be no garage charge for visitors who come by motor.

Those arriving on the special train from Washington will have breakfast at the hotel.

A special rate of $1 will be charged for this. To nearby members who drive in for occasional meals the charge will be $1.50 for luncheon and $1.75 for dinner.

The green fees at the nearby golf courses are $1.00 and $2.00 a day. Tennis on the hotel courts is without charge.

Reservations

All reservations must be in by June 15. On some of the western trains—the Challenger and the Zephyr—a great concession was made to hold space at all. None will be held, and that means none will be available, after June 15.

Reservations for the Washington sight-seeing day and the post convention trips must also be in by June 15. The low prices quoted are on the basis of party rates and the time of year is such that reservations for busses, boat space, hotel rooms, etc. could not be had except in advance.

A reservation blank is included in this copy. There are spaces for hotel reservations, which must be filled out by everybody who comes to convention. There is a rail blank, which should be used by every one who can join any of the special parties arranged for the journey to Spring Lake. All joining the train at Washington, if not before, use this blank.

Baggage

Every one making a hotel reservation will receive a baggage tag which should bear her name and room reservation. If it is necessary to check baggage, it should be sent at least a day ahead and checked directly to the Essex and Sussex hotel, Spring Lake Beach, N.J.

If material for exhibits, etc. can be packed so that it can be checked as baggage, it will be simpler to handle than express packages, and will cost nothing.

Motorists

There are, of course, many and adequate ways to arrive at Spring Lake Beach by automobile. The hotel will furnish you with maps if you ask for them. There will be no charge for garage storage of cars at the Essex and Sussex.

Incidental Information

Tips. Included in the convention registration fee will be an assessment amounting to ten per cent of the hotel bill for tips to the hotel staff. Except for very special personal services, no tips will be necessary or expected during our stay at the Essex and Sussex. The fund will be distributed by the hotel manager and the convention manager in order that the unseen help, as well as the waiters and chambermaids, may receive their share.

Registration fee. The credential and registration committee will receive a fee which will entitle visitors to every convention activity, pay for a subscription to the daily Kite and take care of all tipping. The amount of this fee will be listed in the May magazine. It will not likely be more than $10.00.

Information. Questions not covered by information in this and the May Kappa Alpha Theta, or in the booklet to be issued by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, will be gladly answered by the convention manager, Mrs Yale B. Huffman, 349 N. 35th av. Omaha, Neb. or, if it is a matter of rail schedules, by Mrs Wm. G. Brown, Baltimore and Ohio ry. 105 W. Adams st. Chicago, Ill.

MARTHA CLINE HUFFMAN

Woman Widens Her Field of Work

WASHINGTON.—In two out of sixteen major professional occupations women not only outnumber men but they have gained in comparison with men in the last twenty years, the Department of Labor disclosed in a recent survey of the trends of occupations of women. These two fields are social, religious and welfare work and trained nursing, with respective percentages of increase from 1910 to 1930 of 401.1 and 277.4.

More than a million and a half women are listed in professional service occupations. Since 1910 their employment in medicine and surgery has dropped off a fourth. Recent gains have been largely in the traditional women's fields of teaching and nursing. Women have made notable gains in the law and as draftsmen, as editors and reporters, college presidents and as clergymen. Women are a negligible element in engineering, which is almost exclusively a masculine profession.

In trade women have also made a substantial advance. About a million of them are now engaged in trade occupations. Substantial increases have taken place in the number of women employed as saleswomen, retail dealers, real estate agents and officials and insurance agents. As compared with 1880, when nineteen men were employed in trade to one woman, men now outnumber women by the ratio of only five to one. The gain in employment in real estate has been almost 1,000 per cent.

Domestic and personal service still employs the most women, with 3,000,000 so classified in 1930. Women, however, have lost out somewhat to men during the past two decades; men have gained as cooks and servants and in employment in hotels and restaurants.

The clerical group is second in occupational importance among women. Women in this group total close to 2,000,000, which is about two-and-a-half times as large as the total in the clothing and textile industries combined, traditionally the largest manufacturing employers of women. From 1890 to 1930, thanks in part to the typewriter, employment of women in clerical occupations increased sixteenfold. In the latter year women typists and stenographers outnumbered men by twenty to one.

Women have also definitely forged ahead of men as bookkeepers and cashiers. Men still hold the lead as general office clerks, though their margin is a good deal less than it was a few years ago. As operators of office machines, women far outnumber men.

In manufacturing and mechanical industries the employment of women has declined within two decades. They still outnumber men in the textile and clothing industries and also, strangely enough, in the cigar and tobacco industries.—N. Y. Herald-Tribune, Feb. 6.

On the Radio

IN MAY 1937, a month before I graduated from the University of Cincinnati, I was fortunate enough to get a job at a radio station here in Cincinnati. I started out as the Dot social secretary for the Janzsen food co. which sponsors a fifteen minute program presented five times a week. Their stores are called Dot stores; thus the name of the program, which consists of announcements of social activities in greater Cincinnati; notices being sent in to me by listeners.

The girls at the Theta house tell me that they get awfully tired of hearing about all the bingo and lotto parties that are taking place. (I suppose they listen through a sense of loyalty.) It often gets tiresome to me too, but believe it or not the people who have their club affairs announced really enjoy it. I might also add that it is not only interesting work but provides at times many good laughs. One day I received an announcement saying that all the Lizards and Snakes were to meet at the grand Order of Lizards on Saturday night. Naturally I didn't announce it, thinking that one of my friends had turned practical joker. A few days later I was much chagrined to receive a phone call from a woman who said that she hadn't heard her notice. It seems that the organization is a serious one, so I announced it although it was all I could do to keep from laughing.

I also have a kiddies' program which goes on every Saturday morning in one of the local department stores. We have on the average about two hundred children who come from the poorer sections of the city. I work the program with Uncle Ken, while I am called Aunt Jane. For a half hour we select different children to dance and sing for the visual as well as the radio audience. One morning I was much astonished to have one of my little colored charges bring me a note from her mother, making me feel like a school teacher instead of a radio announcer. This station is owned by Scripps-Howard radio inc. and is a local station, so that it can be heard only in Cincinnati and outlying towns. The note asked me to please put the little girl on the program next Saturday as her grandmother who worked for a white family in St Louis was anxious to hear her. St Louis is 350 miles from Cincinnati. I gravely asked the little girl if her grandmother truly expected to hear her, and she even more gravely replied that she was sure of it. I didn't disillusion her.

In radio anything can happen. One of the nicest compliments I have received was almost fatal to me. Several women came down to the station to put on a sustaining program for a benefit. I was called in at the last minute to introduce them and also to close their program. There was no time for rehearsal but they got on all right. One of the women didn't participate but merely watched. The women miscalculated their timing and finished two minutes early, so I was forced to step up to the microphone and ad lib for the remaining time. When the clock ticked around to the half hour I was quite relieved, and was stepping back, the microphone still open, when I received the shock of my life as the extra woman dashed up to me and said, "My dear, you were wonderful. You were the best on the program." We made a frantic dash for the mike to shut it off and I don't know to this day how much our unseen audience heard of my misplaced compliment. When I went back on the air in fifteen seconds with a program called "Every Woman" I was shaking like a leaf, but when I regained my composure it struck me as humorous, so all in all the ensuing fifteen minutes were quite a struggle.

On another program called "Feminine words and music" we presented each week an interview with an outstanding Cincinnati woman. When college opened in September I took the opportunity of trying to do my bit toward helping the Thetas rush by interviewing one week the president of Alpha Tau, Adelaide Kern, and the next a Theta pledge, Virginia Ficks. It gave our listeners a picture of college and fraternity life from two different angles.

I trust that you can see from this short story why I love my work and feel that radio is one of the most interesting fields anyone can enter.

JANE SCHRADER, Alpha Tau

Welcome News

THE NOTICE in the "In Memoriam" column of the KAPPA ALPHA THETA for January, 1938 of the death of "Carol Jackson, Psi" is greatly exaggerated. Carol Jackson is my sister and is a Wisconsin Theta, class of 1932. When last heard from a few weeks ago she cabled for more money from Genoa, Italy, on her way around the world on a freight boat.

The mistake can probably be traced to the death of my father, Carl D. Jackson, for many years a resident of Wisconsin, on the date mentioned. I would appreciate it if in your next issue you would correct the statement.

Theta Celebrates Another Birthday

IT WAS Founders'-day, and though there were only 5 of us free, we 5 hied ourselves to a local hotel and lunched, in honor of Theta's birthday.

We didn't forget, either, and brought with us a penny for every year of our respective ages to go into "The fund."

The five? We were Sara Buchanan Boller, Alpha Lambda, 1922; Kathleen Dawson Foster, Alpha Sigma, 1917; Jean Vermilya, Alpha Lambda, 1936; Marjorie Paton Miller, Alpha Lambda, 1916; and Sally Sanderson Hylton, Alpha Omega, 1935.

We send our pennies and our congratulations to Kappa Alpha Theta!

SALLY SANDERSON HYLTON

Seventy-four Thetas from 17 chapters lunched together in Philadelphia to celebrate the fraternity's sixty-eighth birthday. The District president, Virginia Davis Boyce, guest of honor, in her talk brought out details of the Founders which were new to us, and told us we must carry on their spirit and further justify fraternity life on our campuses.

Virginia Kinsman showed two movie films of the University of Pennsylvania, which had been taken in connection with its bicentennial plans. Beta Eta girls were surprised to see themselves in some of these pictures of campus activities.

Detroit reports 60 Thetas having dinner together in Mabel Gail Lowrie's home. The candles were lighted for the Founders, the ritual service for Theta's birthday was given, and there was much group singing.

Louisville, Kentucky, club also used the ritual service at its luncheon, and lighted candles for the Founders.

In Chicago the joint celebration of alumnae chapters and clubs in that district, together with Tau, was a luncheon attended by more than 200 Thetas. The toastmistress was Jessie Lee Cochran, former president of District IX, and guests of honor were Mrs Grasett, Grand president, Mrs Grimm, District president, Mrs Toel, State chairman, and Eva Hall, Tau chapter founder and former member of Grand council. Mrs Hamilton, Founder, was expected but a temporary illness kept her at home. Highlights in individual escapades of Kappa Alpha Thetas since 1870 were reviewed in an amusing musical skit, each guest being required to stand while they sang of the escapade in which she had played a part. A style show included today's costumes modeled by Field's staff, under the head of that department, Maxine Scott, Theta of Gamma deuteron chapter, and costumes of Theta decades modeled by Tau members.

Washington alumnae's luncheon had 66 Thetas present representing 30 college chapters.

More than a hundred Thetas, including active members of Kappa, celebrated with a banquet in Kansas city. A clever stunt was provided by the Kappa undergraduates.

Buffalo had a cosmopolitan celebration—20 alumnae from 14 college chapters, many members being absent because of illness. When the Founders' candles had been lighted, they were passed down the table so each Theta present could light her candle from one of the Founder candles. The initiation ritual was used, and several hundred brain teasers on Theta history ended the party.

Down in Memphis, Tennessee, the alumnae club reports that the 18 who had luncheon together had loads of fun and an attractive program, a broadcasting party of the sidewalk interview type, to which each contributed stories of her college and chapter.

Then on a large chart, "What it takes to make the ideal Theta," each Theta added the outstanding asset she left on the Theta chain at college.

The Boston chapter had a birthday dinner, with the usual ritual adorned by an attractive addition, a special candle for Mrs Boisen, early initiate of Beta, lighted by her daughter, second of the three generation members that family contributed to Beta chapter. This party, too, ended with a hilarious and informative Professor Quiz radio hour. For this party 100 Thetas from 42 college chapters were invited, residing in 29 neighboring towns; 57 answered the invitation, 38 acceptances, and 19 regrets. Represented at the dinner were 21 chapters, Lambda leading with 5, followed by Iota and Beta Lambda, each with 3 present.

Ithaca alumnae club, celebrating with Iota, watched as four Cornell Thetas in lovely old gowns described the Founders, and heard Miss Green bring greetings from Grand council.

Houston reports one startling innovation—celebrating actually on Founders'-day, January 27. In sending us this news, Dorothy Ehrman Mason adds: "I was a small town Theta from Indiana who has spent the 12 and a half years of my married life in cities—Memphis and Houston—and Theta has given me my nearest and dearest friends in each city. Do not think me sentimental but I cannot ignore the origins of friendships that have meant so much in my mature life."

Then the China Clipper just brought this:

It is almost a tradition for Honolulu Thetas to hold their Founders'-day luncheon in the famous "House without a key" on the grounds of the Halekulani hotel which overlooks the blue waters of widely known Waikiki. This year on January 29 among the twenty-four Thetas present, seventeen chapters were represented. (This, by the way, is the largest group we have ever had.)

The long t-shaped table was centered by a graceful arrangement of cup-of-gold and orange lilies, and down the entire length of the table were shallow crystal containers of dark purple pansies interspersed with single cup-of-gold blossoms and black and gold gazanias. Betty Alden Carter, Phi, and Lou Lansburgh Hyland, Psi, were responsible for the attractive place cards.

Charlotte Hall, Upsilon, guiding spirit of Theta in the islands, led in the reading of the preamble and conducted the candle service for the Founders. This year the beauty of the service was further enhanced by the graceful candle holders of glazed yellow pottery which Charlotte had made and which she presented to the Theta group. At the base of the candle holders, there were scattered sprays of bitter sweet, a rare treat for Hawaii Thetas.

Betty Sherman Allyn, Tau, a chapter sister of Jeanette Grasett, read the lovely birthday greeting from our Grand president. Margaret Cotton Turner, Upsilon, presided during the program and Louise Webber Armistage, Alpha Nu, and Julia Woolfolk Beck, Alpha Nu, gave interesting talks. Anne Hawes Doering, Alpha Psi, presented a beautiful golden ilima flower lei to Charlotte Hall.

Our birthday pennies for the Friendship fund found their way into the black pansy which is always used for that purpose and this year counted up to $12.41.

The chain was formed before the group disbanded and together we joined in the special Honolulu chain chant:

"Fast in our sacred chain we join our hands in love;
As faithful trusted members we stand as one to prove
And pledge again together, as each link strong, true to be,
To Kappa Alpha Theta, unchanging loyalty."

Those present: Laura Schieffelin Wilbur, Eta; Elizabeth Sherman Allyn, Tau; Lynore Cliff Andrade, Margaret Cotton Turner, and Charlotte Hall, Upsilon; Betty Alden Carter, Elizabeth Hopper Davis, and Marjorie Curry Williams, Phi; Lou Lansburgh Hyland, Psi; Dorothy Wood Henderson and Evelyn Selfridge Merrill, Omega; Anna Williams Murfin, Alpha Gamma; Mary Elizabeth Wilson, Alpha Eta; Marie Sullivan Cooke, Alpha Lambda; Ruth Dulaney Waterman, Alpha Mu; Louise Webber Armitage and Julia Woolfolk Beck, Alpha Nu; Helen Driver Stewart and Louise Mason Edwards, Alpha

Xi; Helen L. Hayes, Alpha Pi; Irene Kulzer Cook, Alpha Sigma; Anne Hawes Doering, Alpha Psi; Bette Losse, Beta Epsilon; Ethal Richmond White, Beta Theta.

Theater Vocational Trends

Excerpts from address, The college woman on Broadway, by Anne Grosvenor Ayres, at National Panhellenic Council editors' dinner, October 14, 1937, Waldorf-Astoria.

IN RECENT years ideas have been revised. College girls on Broadway have something to give. The college girl also stays on Broadway. She has lasting power. I am thinking particularly of Josephine Hull, in the cast of You can't take it with you. Miss Hull was graduated from Radcliffe thirty years ago.

"A college education is now considered a good thing for an actress. She can well afford to spend in college the years she might spend learning her craft as an ingenue.

"Fifteen years ago there were only a few women active in theater executive positions, notably Nellie Revell, the late Elisabeth Marbury, and Rachel Crothers. Directing is a field into which more women could go today. Good training for this is in college theaters. An excellent apprenticeship is stage managing.

"There is also a field for more women in criticism. There is only one woman drama editor on a major paper in New York, Willa Waldorf, who went to Mt. Holyoke.

"The chances are better than ever before for college girls who want to go into the theater. Also more college women should write plays. If ever there was a chance in the American theater for plays with new and interesting ideas, now is the time. We need plays with new locales. For a few years there was nothing but Long Island and Westchester drawing rooms for their settings.

"Publicity in the theater is an excellent field for women, and there should be more women movie critics."

Miss Ayres also spoke of her experiences in producing the dramatization of Sinclair Lewis' novel, It can't happen here, for the W.P.A. theater in Hartford, Connecticut.

College women on Broadway in current plays include the following from Miss Ayres' list: Blow ye winds, Doris Dalton, Wellesley; Susan and God, Vera Allen, Barnard; You can't take it with you, Josephine Hull, Radcliffe, and Virginia Hammond, New York university; Babes in arms, Elise Chisholm, University of Mississippi; Yes, my darling daughter, Haila Stodd Stoddard, University of Southern California; The women, Adrienne Marden and Phyllis Povah, University of Michigan; Mary Stuart, University of California; Jean Cooley, Capitol university; Anne Hunter, Radcliffe; Doris Day, Cornell and Iowa State university; Joy Hathaway, Victoria college Surrey players; Katherine Emery, Sweetbriar; Anne Revere, Wellesley; Helen Wynn, University of Washington and University of Vienna; Connie Nickerson, Syracuse university. In the cast of Virginia was Avis Andrews, a young colored girl who was graduated from Howard university and came directly to Broadway to be under the direction of the late Florenz Ziegfeld.

Women directors include Cheryl Crawford, Smith; Theresia Helburn, Bryn Mawr and Sorbonne; and Hallie Flanagan, Radcliffe.

Alumnae Group News

Spokane alumnae reports a membership of 54. During the holidays they had a fireside for all Thetas returning to their Spokane homes for the holidays. This is the chapter's twenty-fifth year as a chapter.

New Orleans alumnae had a Christmas party for Alpha Phi chapter, to which all brought gifts for Lucille and her family. Lucille is the girl this chapter saw through high school. The January meeting had a symposium on Fraternity life, to which each contributed customs of her chapter, and all participated in a quiz on fraternity history.

Greetings and a royal welcome to the new Theta club in Canton, Ohio. They planned to have a joint Founders'-day celebration with the Akron club. Similar welcome to the Chicago, north side club.

Champaign-Urbana club issues a printed program for the 8 meetings of its 1937-38 club year; all luncheon or dinner meetings.

Movies Call

Quoted from the Mortar board quarterly are the following excerpts from Marjorie Hunt's story of her sister Marsha's "Road to stardom" in moving pictures. Marjorie was initiated into Kappa Alpha Theta and Mortar board at Denison.

... The acting bug which bit Marsha at the advanced age of five was nourished regularly and consecutively through home theatricals, grade school and high school plays, on up to the days of dramatic school at Theodora Irvine's, when Marsha was sixteen, a graduate of Horace Mann in New York. Here the bug got its first real full-fledged meal and flapped its shimmering wings, impatient to get to England, there to study at the Royal academy of dramatic art. But Marsha took it on a detour first in order to visit an uncle in California and check up on the situation of the movies, her ultimate goal. Already she had achieved some fame as one of John Robert Powers' most photographed models—on the strength of which alone, she was offered two movie contracts.

Then some beautiful still photographs she had made in Hollywood fell into the hands of one of the more important agents, who showed them to Paramount and insisted the subject warranted a screen test. And very successful the test was too, in light of the 7-year contract which followed. . . .

In talking over with Marsha the possibilities for college-trained women in the movies, I find that unfortunately in the early stages that background must be carefully concealed. Ultimately the superiority of a university graduate will show itself, as far as general, all-round knowledge is concerned. But the movies seem to demand a certain specialized knowledge of their own, best learned in the medium itself, and this applies to the story writers, the fashion designers, the diction and singing coaches, as well as to the actresses themselves. So to any college girl who aspires to movies, Marsha says warmly, "don't come straight to pictures from the campus, whatever occurs!"

"First seek out your field, become well versed in it, as you would for any sort of professional career, have it at your fingertips, then come out and prepare to be told just how mistaken you were and listen and learn until you 'work into the movie groove,' as it were. Salability here, to an almost exaggerated degree, becomes the watchword. I, for one, believe that those who have acquired a certain skill in their work, backed up by college training, should logically become top of their field. . . ."

Expand Teaching of Public Service

MORE THAN 130 American colleges and universities are this year giving courses in public administration. Sixty of them profess to offer comprehensive programs of educational preparation for public administration.

Of these courses one-half have been instituted in the last four years, three-quarters in the last ten years, according to a list appearing in the forthcoming Municipal Yearbook for 1938, published by the International City Managers' Association of Chicago.

What is this new interest that is sweeping the campuses? Is it a fad? Are there jobs waiting for the graduates of these courses?

Despite the novelty of the epithet "brain trust," it is obvious that in a sense our colleges have always prepared men and women for the public service. Foresters, chemists, accountants, lawyers, graduates of all our professional and scientific schools have gone equally into public and private employ. . . .

In many government departments, men so trained have, by seniority and excellence in their specialty, gradually risen to the command of bureaus; as a result, in the words of one of the most experienced personnel officers in Washington, "We are constantly ruining good scientists to make bum administrators of them."

The notion that there are special skills in management is definitely a development of the last few decades in both industry and government. Frederick Taylor and his followers in "scientific management" have had their counterparts among students of government, evolving techniques of financial control through the budget, of personnel management, planning, coordination, organization.

While no one is foolish enough to claim that any amount of book learning will make an administrator of a person who has not the gift of dealing with people, it is increasingly felt that there is here a body of knowledge which can profitably be transmitted through the educational process. . . .

The introduction of courses in administration at sixty-five colleges in the last four years is in two ways a result of the depression. There have been fewer jobs in private industry, so that students who would previously have scorned public service because of its poor pay and low esteem have eyed more favorably its comparative security.

And the tremendous new responsibilities thrust upon government to meet the social needs of the depression have called for a sudden dramatic enlargement of staff, opening unusual opportunities for bright young men and women.

In New York State the beginning of the social security program involved the recruitment of 4,000 persons in one year to man the employment offices and unemployment compensation bureau. . . .

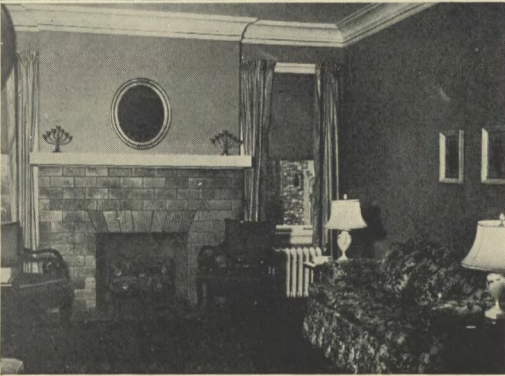

Most universities already offer a wide variety of courses which are good educational background for the future public servant; the curriculum may need the addition of only a handful of courses.

What is needed is the breaking down of departmental barriers, so that the student may count toward his degree that combination of courses which will best equip him for the branch of the service in which he is interested.

Such educational preparation for the public service can be made available at many colleges all over the country.—N. Y. Times, Feb. 6.

California chapters please note; a charming eastern Theta sends her new address as "Lost Angeles." You will be glad to get this correction for your files. The Lost Angeles Chamber of commerce will want to change its letterhead, too.

Alpha Tau's Home

THE UNIVERSITY of Cincinnati has long been dubbed a "street car college"; recent developments by the university and among the women's fraternities are tending toward the discard of this term. This year Alpha Tau made a smoke dream of many years come true and contributed its share toward making matriculation at the University of Cincinnati a full college experience. Now Alpha Tau has a house, and girls are really living in it.

For years Alpha Tau had headquarters in four and five room apartments just off campus, which served as a meeting place and not much more. Three years ago, a Monday afternoon bull session resulted in the appointment of a house committee which started a rather fruitless search in the vicinity of the campus for a larger apartment, a house, or a lot. Not until last spring did some of the chapter members spot a brick house for sale directly opposite the main buildings of campus. Chapter president, Adelaide Kern, and Theta-Dean Ingle got busy and worked out a purchasing plan and presented the figures to the alumnae chapter at its June meeting. It was largely due to the presence of Mrs Grasett, Grand president, at this meeting that plans progressed so quickly.

Henrietta Brady was appointed chairman of Alpha Tau association of Kappa Alpha Theta before its incorporation and her work in that capacity is to be lauded. Many hectic meetings in June finally resulted in the decision to purchase this property at 2711 Clifton avenue. Early in July the deal was completed.

Members of the board of directors of Alpha Tau corporation are: Morton Brown Gusweiler, president; Hazel Cairns, vice-president; Dorothy Beck Fischer, secretary; Jeanette Nichols Martin, treasurer; Alfarata Myers Haas, chairman of Alpha Tau's Advisory board; Jane Pursell Bingham, president of Cincinnati alumnae chapter; Mildred Hatch Graves, financial adviser to Alpha Tau;

Dean Katherine Dabney Ingle, Erma Pfleger Farrell, and Marion Haffner, members-at-large.

Thanks to a house fund which the Mothers' club turned over to us immediately, the great task of redecorating and furnishing could begin immediately after purchase. The decorating committee, under the able and artistic direction of Katherine Marsh Nippert, performed miracles during July and August, transforming the dark, dingy house into a light, gay place. Those who assisted Mrs Nippert in this work were Margaret Teucter Hauser, Dorothy Japp, and Dale Bartlett. We must not fail to mention the dozens of others who dropped in to wield a paint brush or a needle.

Sunday, September 12, Alpha Tau's new home blossomed forth, complete to the last detail. The 50 members of the chapter and the charming new house mother, Mrs Estelle Holliday, welcomed to the house about 150 rushees on that Sunday, the opening day of the 1937 rush reason. Rushing was madly delightful and every one in the chapter was bursting with pride over the new house.

October 3, Alpha Tau had open house for the student body of the University of Cincinnati. Hundreds of guests inspected the house and enjoyed punch and cookies in the dining room. Among the lovely housewarming gifts received that afternoon were: a radio, a buffet supper cart, an electric clock, a lamp, bookends, linens, flowers, and telegrams.

November 7, the house was open to the members of Cincinnati alumnae chapter and their families. After this charming tea, Iphogene Molony Bettman, as chairman of the alumnae drive for contributions, began an ambitious campaign which culminated in a victory tea in January.

Probably the best of all the house parties, so far, was the Christmas party given by pledges and actives just before the holidays.

Each one brought a present for the house and gayety reigned beneath the Christmas tree.

As to the house, itself, it is constructed of brick, in English style. On the first floor are the living room and dining room which open into each other, a solarium, a library, kitchen, breakfast nook, and the house mother's suite. On the second floor are three bedrooms to accommodate seven girls, bath room and storage room. In the basement are the chapter room, laundry and storage rooms.

Such is the story of Alpha Tau's house on a "street car college" campus. Now there is a constant flow of Thetas and their guests, through the doorway. At last we have, not only a house, but a home.

ADELAIDE KERN

Fellowship to be Awarded by New York City Panhellenic

FOR THE fifth time New York city Panhellenic announces the offering of a $500.00 fellowship for advanced study in New York city.

Any NPC fraternity member in good standing who has a bachelor's degree is eligible to compete for the 1938-39 award.

All applications must be in the hands of the committee before April 15, 1938. The final choice will be announced at the May meeting of the city Panhellenic. The money, already in a depository bank, will be available to the winner, in September 1938.

The committee on award has 5 members, each from a different fraternity. All applications will be judged solely on merit, and without knowledge by the committee of any candidate's identity. The committee reserves the right to defer an award if no candidate satisfies all requirements.

If interested in applying for this fellowship, write immediately to the chairman of the committee, giving your name, address, college and year of graduation, degree or degrees held, and the name of your fraternity. Detailed directions will then be sent you, together with necessary blanks.

Address applications thus—Chairman of N.Y.C. Panhellenic fellowship committee, Room 422, 3 Mitchell place, New York, N.Y.

Mortar Board, 1937-38

FIFTY Thetas are members of Mortar board this year. You will find pictures of 47 of them elsewhere. The three unpictured are—Dean Katherine Dalbey Ingle, Alpha Tau; Helen Cleaver, Beta Eta; and Geline Young, Beta Sigma.

Alpha Omega may brag of four Mortar boards; Alpha Theta, Alpha Iota, Beta Tau, and Beta Phi have three each; nine other chapters have a pair apiece; and 16 chapters have one each.

The following Thetas are both Mortar boards and presidents of W.S.G.A. or similar organizations: Janet Dempster, Iota; Helen Simons, Gamma deutron; Hope Hartwig, Eta; Barbara Fairchild, Alpha Sigma; Thyrsa Agness Amos, Alpha Omega; Nancy Farley, Beta Pi; Amy McClelland, Beta Phi; and Bonita Matthews, Lambda. Other presidents of organizations equivalent to W.S.G.A. are: Mary Brent Holland, Beta Rho; Maxine Herron, Beta Gamma; Thelma Quillian, Beta Sigma; and Margaret Homuth, Gamma Epsilon.

Theta Violinist

EUGENE welcomed home last December a local girl who had "made good," Frances Brockman, famous young violinist. Frances attended the University of Oregon where she was a member of Alpha Xi, and outstanding for her violin playing. For the past two and one-half years she has had a continued scholarship at the New England conservatory of music at Boston and has now been granted a year's travelling scholarship in Europe. She will spend six months in Paris and six months on the continent studying under the great violin teachers.

While at Oregon, Frances was a favorite soloist of the university symphony orchestra under the direction of Rex Underwood, her instructor. So as the surprise attraction of the student body concert series she was invited to again appear with the orchestra. Her group of selections included the Symphonie Espagnole which she played with the Boston symphony orchestra last summer.

During her stay in Eugene Frances was widely entertained. After the concert Alpha Xi honored her at a reception. Three hundred guests were invited to attend. Receiving with Frances were her mother, Mrs Edna Brockman, Mr and Mrs Rex Underwood, Chancellor and Mrs Frederick Hunter, vice president and Mrs Burt Brown Barker, Dr and Mrs C. L. Schwering, Brandon Young, house president, and Mrs James Blair, house mother.

Pi chapter of Phi Beta, national music and drama fraternity, entertained at a luncheon for Frances, its former president.

Two honors were conferred on Frances while she was in Eugene. Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honor society, elected her to membership, and Mortar Board initiated her as an honorary member, a tribute to her distinction.

Although busy seeing old friends and being entertained, Frances found time to speak before the students of University high school, which she attended. The Register-Guard, local paper, sponsored in her honor a radio contest for talented violinists.

The seniors of Alpha Xi had been lowly freshmen during Frances' last busy and successful year at college but she remembered and warmly greeted each of them. The chapter felt proud to be able to claim such a charming and talented girl as a sister Theta.

ELISABETH STETSON

Della Delvin

FIFTY-FIVE years in Theta! It's a long, long time, but Miss Della Delvin's interest in Kappa Alpha Theta hasn't waned since that day in 1882 when she pledged her loyalty at an impressive ceremony.

Miss Delvin lives in the little town of Chelan, Washington, on lovely Lake Chelan high in the magnificent Cascades of North Central Washington.

From there she came the 45 miles to Wenatchee to tell me of the day in 1882 when she became a member of Alpha chapter at Asbury college, the same year that Asbury became DePauw university.

With Mollie L. Collins she pledged Theta that fall. She laughs as she explains that her badge was as "big as a door knocker" and that she wore it in her hair, for a collar pin, on her coat lapel or anywhere her fancy dictated.

"There were no fraternity houses," she explains, "but meetings were held in a hall, rented to the various groups. But most times we met in homes. Those who had large homes were always eager to help the girls."

She explains that she doesn't remember many names of chapter members, now, but she does recall Nellie Bridges, Dr Ridpath's two daughters, and her friend, Mollie Collins.

"My first social event in Theta was a Hallowe'en party, held in a home. It was an all-night affair, and we all took our blankets and pillows. And even if there weren't enough beds, there was ample space on the floor. As nearly as I can recall, there were 45 or 48 girls, including the pledges. Our high aim was scholarship."

For two years she was at DePauw (which she had been permitted to enter as a sophomore after taking an examination).

After that she came west where she taught. Then, in 1909 she went to Washington State college at Pullman and received her degree.

She came to Wenatchee when this district was young as the first home demonstration agent in the four counties of North Central Washington and held that position through the war. Since then she has taught and, before her retirement, was in the office of the Lewis county superintendent of schools.

She was one of the active workers for the chartering of Alpha Lambda chapter at the University of Washington. At that time she was in Tacoma and one of three Thetas, she thinks, in the city. She talked to the girls in the chapter petitioning, wrote letters and was one of the most elated when Kappa Alpha Theta was chartered at the university.

"It's a long, long time," she says, "and there are many things I don't remember about those early days, so I can't tell you much about the young Theta chapter I knew. But it was Theta!"

And anytime you find a Theta gathering in this district, you find Della Delvin, just as enthusiastic about the Kite and all its meanings as she was, 'way back there, 55 years ago.

SALLY SANDERSON HYLTON,

Dean at Vermont

MARY JEAN SIMPSON, Lambda, in September 1937, became Dean of women at the University of Vermont.

In 1908 Mary Jean entered the university of Vermont, transferred to Mount Holyoke for a year, then after travel abroad, returned to Vermont where she graduated in 1913, cum laude and with a Phi Beta Kappa key.

In college Miss Simpson was identified with all college activities of that time, few in number compared to those now on campus.

Miss Simpson taught at Peoples' academy in Morrisville, Vermont, and at Montpelier. Then in war years she was recalled to Morrisville to become principal of Peoples' academy, the first woman to hold that position.

She became interested in politics, especially concerned about legislation affecting the State department of education, so from having been an anti-suffragist, Miss Simpson became a defender of suffrage for women.

After the return of her brother from active duty overseas Miss Simpson went to live with him in New York city, where she studied at Columbia and did substitute teaching in the history department of the Evander Childs high school for three years.

In 1924 Miss Simpson returned to Vermont to become a candidate for the state legislature from her native town of Craftsbury. After a spirited campaign and in spite of conservative opposition to women in public office she was elected to the lower house of the General assembly for a term of two years, the first woman from Orleans county to serve there. At the end of the first session of the legislature, because of her successful championship of the Shepard-Towner maternity act bill and the rural school improvement legislation, she was selected as one of the forum speakers for the Vermont Federation of women's clubs, and appointed by Governor Billings to represent the college and university women of the state on the Governor's Advisory council.

In 1926 Miss Simpson was appointed Bill clerk of the United States Senate, the first woman to hold a position on the staff of the secretary of the United States Senate, an appointment which she held until July, 1933.

With the organization of federal relief, Miss Simpson was appointed director for Vermont of the emergency relief program for unemployed women under the Civil works administration of which Mrs Ellen S. Woodward was national director. In 1935 Miss Simpson, at the request of the National administrator, went to Maine to assist in setting up the women's and professional division of the Works progress administration in that state, and in October, 1936, was transferred to Washington to become a consultant on Mrs Woodward's staff. Her work of inspecting and evaluating the hundreds of WPA production projects throughout the country took her from Maine to California, as well as into all the middle atlantic and most of the Southern states.

In July, 1937, Miss Simpson, who has never ceased to be a loyal Vermonter, resigned to accept the appointment as Dean of women which was offered by the Board of trustees of her own college. To that position she brings the vision, tolerance, and balanced judgment which were developed by her varied experience and wide contacts with many types of people and problems. Never having lost touch with young people she has kept abreast of their thinking and is thus able to offer them wise and sympathetic guidance. Her experience has developed her natural executive ability, so that she is able to accomplish a great deal of work with a minimum of strain, which leaves her free to give time to building up and directing a program of constructive activities for the girls on campus.

Film Censor

SUSANNAH M. WARFIELD, Alpha Gamma, '16, is an assistant censor in the Division of film censorship of the Department of education of Ohio, a position she has held since June 1, 1922. It is her duty to view, with other members of the division, films submitted for censorship, and to help judge them in accordance with the censorship law.

The Ohio censorship law requires that "Only such films as are in the judgment and discretion of the board of censors of a moral, educational, or amusing and harmless character shall be passed and approved by such board."

The division is established in the state office building, having its own offices, a shipping room where films are received and sent out, a fully equipped booth for screening films, both silent and sound, and a projection room where they are reviewed.

Every day films are sent in from film exchanges in the state by truck, express, parcel post, or are brought in by a representative. To take care of the films received the machines run all day, screening one film after another, and yet there are nearly always films waiting for a test. The pictures must be kept moving, so bookings at theaters can be met. The average number of reels, of 1,000 feet, screened a day is thirty-five. The Division asks for three days in which to complete the censorship of a film, although they are sometimes returned much sooner, and sometimes, especially if a problem film, held longer. The films are returned to the exchanges and if eliminations are to be made an order is sent stating what parts are to be removed. The cutting is done at the exchanges and the pictures distributed from there to the theaters.

As a film is being screened any questionable scenes or dialogue appearing are noted on the reels in which they occur. After the picture is completed it is discussed, and if necessary the whole film or certain parts may be rescreened. A dialogue script must be submitted by the producers with each picture, giving all the dialogue that is spoken on the screen. Some scripts also give all the scenes as well as the dialogue. The scripts are a great aid in the censoring of a picture, especially when many eliminations are made.

A good many foreign films are received from various countries, Russia, Germany, France, Hungary, Poland. With these a complete English translation of all dialogue is required. In some cases interpreters are engaged to translate the film as it is being screened.

The state charges a fee of $3.00 for each reel of 1,000 feet censored. The same rate is charged for duplicate prints as for the original. This money is turned into the state treasury, and after the operating expenses of the Division have been met, one-half of the surplus is used to finance a Division of visual education.

Psychologist

OWNER of this smile is Margery Rean, Gamma Epsilon, who has just been appointed psychologist to the mental hygiene department of the city of Toronto.

Whether or not the smile was simultaneous with the appointment is not known, but Margery has every reason to smile over her new job. The career on which she so nonchalantly embarked as a freshette has steamed away with her. The Toronto Globe and Mail, revealing All, declares that Margery's choice of a career sprang from her dislike of Latin, and the fact that seven years ago psychology was the only course at Western in which Latin was not compulsory. From that time psychology had her by the heels. She was one of three to graduate in psychology from Western in 1934, going on to win her M.A. at Toronto in 1936. Along the road she spent an interesting summer as psychological interne at the Ontario hospital at Cobourg.

In her new position she will deal exclusively with school children. There are two other psychologists in the department, and all three work with children when requests are made for their services by principals of schools.

Margery became a member of Pi Sigma at Western, and was an earnest, faithful and enthusiastic worker for Theta long before the charter was granted. Now she is a member of Toronto alumnae chapter. Installation visitors will remember her as the essence of friendly charm and hospitality.

MARGERY REAN, Γ Ε

Sigma's Bonners

WE'RE the guys who put the inter inter international."

In 1887 with the granting of a charter to Sigma chapter at the University of Toronto, Kappa Alpha Theta became an international organization.

Only three years before, women were permitted for the first time to enter the university in search of higher education. Among them in '86 was Annie Willson, now Mrs Robert J. Bonner. She, it is true, had come for knowledge, but—there were only five Jean Scott, Ida Gertrude Eastwood, Caroline Phair, and Madge Robertson. For the first year they could not—as is often the case today—"get together" on their first pledges-to-be. The only one they could agree on was Annie Willson. Accordingly, they took her aside one day (she was always a joiner), gave her something harmless to drink, had her sign a book, and told her she was now a Theta. There was never a meeting after that. As a matter of fact, it was only recently, when glancing through Miss Eva Hall's directory of Thetas, that she learned who else had been initiated during the two years that followed.

Time passed. Mrs Bonner was now living in Chicago, the wife of a professor at the University of Chicago. Her elder son was attending the university as a freshman and was feeling proud of being a fraternity pledge. His pride was overwhelming. "It's too bad you don't belong to a fraternity, Mother," he said teasingly.

"Mother" thought back a number of years to her own college days and ventured, "But I do. I was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta."

"Of Kappa Alpha Theta? Why, that's about the best there is! I didn't know you were a Theta."

"Well," she replied, "I had almost forgotten it myself."

The saying, "Once a Theta always a Theta," proved true, however. For not long after that the Chicago South Side alumnae chapter was formed and Mrs Bonner was there to attend her first Theta meeting. Since then, she has had much cause to remember that she is a Theta, especially since her daughter is now a Theta sister, initiated in Sigma chapter too.

PATRICIA BONNER

women in her class. The result is easily foreseen. If she hadn't at least ten men around her she felt like a wallflower!

Into this tower of masculinity came Kappa Alpha Theta the following year to initiate

Friendly Rivals

THE ALUMNÆ OF ALPHA PHI in Winnipeg decided to do something to make fraternities looked up to as worth-while organizations in that community. Their project was the raising of a memorial to the late King George V by presenting equipment to the Cancer Relief institute of Manitoba. Letters were sent to women's clubs, speeches were made before various organizations, and other sororities on that campus enlisted to join with Alpha Phi in the project. By guaranteeing the largest department store to bring at least three thousand people within its doors the alumnæ were able to obtain, not only free accommodation but also free tea and service. The company further assisted by giving them a window display in silver and bordeaux with the Alpha Phi crest hanging beside the photograph of the late king. His Honor, W. J. Tupper, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba consented to open the tea. With every sorority represented in this work and Alpha Phi at the helm, $1006 was raised. The money was then presented to the Cancer Relief institute of Manitoba, and spent to install the newest type of machine required to measure the amount and quality of radiation given to cancer patients. According to the Alpha Phi Quarterly, authorities said it was the only one of its kind in Canada, and it will do much to alleviate the suffering of cancer victims. Members of that sorority recently received a letter from the Institute inviting them to come to Room 200 to inspect the equipment their money had purchased. Upon arriving they found that on the door of Room 200 were the words "Alpha Phi Standardization Laboratory."

ALPHA XI DELTA, at the University of Nebraska, prepared a number of charts during the summer and exhibited them in one of the upper halls at all the rush parties in the fall. One of the charts showed the relative scholastic standing of all the sororities on the campus, and one showed the relative position in activities. It was possible to make an accurate and authoritative activity chart due to the fact that the A.W.S. board, a council of women students ruling the feminine part of the student body, had completed a point system for activities. Especially successful was an enormous colored map showing the location of all Alpha Xi Delta, and with symbols indicating at which chapters there were members of Mortar board, May Queens, Honorary Colonels, and other campus leaders. Other charts illustrated the comparative expenses of all of the sororities on the Nebraska campus, and one great sheet of paper was covered with pictures of outstanding Alpha Xi Deltas from other chapters, clipped from the Alpha Xi Delta magazine. There were also several pages of pictures of noted alumnæ.

ONE OF THE FEATURES of the University of Iowa's Silver Shadow night club is the Zeta Tau Alpha trio. These young ladies broadcast bi-monthly over station WSUI.

WHEN THE FLOWERS BLOOM in the spring of 1938, purple and gold iris blossoms transplanted from the beds in the Court of the Archons of the Levere Memorial Temple at Evanston, Illinois will adorn the premises of twenty collegiate chapters of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, extending from Massachusetts to California and from Georgia to Washington, and the lot in Linwood cemetery at Columbus, Georgia, in which Noble Leslie DeVotie, principal founder of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, is buried. These bulbs are the descendants of bulbs planted by Sir Walter Scott at Abbotsford, Scotland, and presented by him to Washington Irving, who brought them to America and planted them at his home at Sunny Side on the Hudson. In turn, they came into the possession of the family of John Uri Lloyd, noted author and scientist of Cincinnati, who presented them to the Levere Memorial Temple through Judge Alfred K. Nippert in 1932.

ON TWO CAMPUSES, at the University of Missouri and the University of Minnesota, it was big news when women students were named for the first time in history to be editors of the University yearbooks. Both of these editors are members of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

FOR THE FIRST TIME Theta Sigma Phi at Northwestern university is sponsoring a contest for newspaper women of Illinois. The Medill school of journalism is cooperating in the contest. All women working on daily papers in the state are eligible to compete in the contest. This contest is being conducted to prove to the men that women news writers are as able as men. Three divisions will be made in the contest to give all the writers an even chance. The first will be for papers with circulations of 100 to 10,000, the second from 10,000 to 50,000, and the third over 50,000. Two awards are being offered in each division of the contest.

SEVEN YEARS AGO AT Kappa Kappa Gamma's 60th birthday convention at Mackinac island, Almira Johnson McNaboe, now grand vice-president, but then representing the New York city alumnae, headed a committee which recommended a memorial gift to Monmouth college in honor of Kappa Kappa Gamma's founders. The recommendation was adopted. Within a year, chiefly by small gifts from individual Kappas, it was possible to present $2500 to Monmouth college in June 1931, the 75th anniversary of the college. The decision was made to give the fund for a library endowment. Dr T. H. McMichael, then president of Monmouth, in acknowledging the gift called it "a most fitting memorial, keeping alive the names of your founders in the place where first they dreamed their dreams; dreams which have been fulfilled, I am sure, far beyond any of their girlhood expectations. It is a most useful and practical memorial, too, and will be a continual source of helpfulness to succeeding student generations also."

In 1932 members of the grand council visited Monmouth to present bookplates for the memorial volumes. These plates bore the names of Kappa's six founders. Two years later the Alpha chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma was reinstated at this institution. Meanwhile the fund had been invested and the income used for the purchase of books, placed in a special Kappa memorial section of the college library shelves.

WHAT A FRATERNITY HOUSE SHOULD BE.

1. It should be a place where a better environment for the pursuit of academic work can be secured than outside the chapter house.

2. It should be a place where a better cultural atmosphere can be found than outside.

3. It should be a place where a character is formed, not destroyed.

4. It should be a place where habits of responsibility, industry, and leadership are recognized for their real value and are seriously cultivated by members and pledges.

5. It should be a place where members "practice what they preach"; where the younger men are appealed to by the example of the older men. In such a fraternity younger men are not driven to give adherence to regulations which the members violate with impunity.

6. It should be a place where the ideal of the chapter is to aid, rather than hinder, the educational progress of the college.

7. It should be a place where such a warm congeniality of personal relationship between the men exists that outsiders, looking in, will desire to share in the privilege of membership.—The Shield of Phi Kappa Psi.

WHAT FRATERNITY CAN MEAN TO AN ALUMNA. Those of you who saw "Red Rhumba" will undoubtedly remember the hit-song of the show, "You Can't Judge a Book by Its Cover," and the line that invariably brought a roar of amusement from the audience: "You can't judge a man by his fraternity pin; he may have been stuck with one too!" To speak of being "stuck" with a fraternity pin must seem strange when we come together from time to time to celebrate the founding of our fraternity and renew our vows of allegiance to Alpha Xi Delta. But I am sure that if each one of us is honest with herself and will probe into the secret places of her mind, she will find at least one instance when she has looked at her fraternity pin and has asked herself quite frankly, "What is the meaning of fraternity to me? What place does it have in my life?" Such questioning is not disloyal; we are only disloyal when we recognize defects in the organization and fail to do anything to remedy the situation. And we should naturally expect to find those defects; for in any organization, involving a complex of human temperament, there are bound to be flaws. But, if we are fair in our appraisal, we will also recognize that there are certain elements in fraternity association that should give it a very definite place in our lives, that should make it have a very real meaning for all of us.

It seems to me that the greatest contributions fraternity can make to its alumna members are found in opportunities for friendship and service. . . .

Closely allied with friendships is the opportunity for service. Service is like a boomerang: when we give of ourselves, that service comes back to us, not necessarily in material rewards, but in the subtle character changes that make us more worthwhile individuals. The alumnae organization offers us that opportunity to serve. . . . Having done something for the organization, it becomes a part of us and has a real meaning and place in our lives. Our interests are broadened, friendships formed in working together grow stronger and deeper, and in the end we find that, having given to our fraternity the best we had, the best has come back to us.—MARJORIE KING, Alpha Xi Delta, Nov. 1937.

Adequate Scholarships for the Gifted

RESIDENT CONANT, in addressing Los Angeles Harvard alumni, placed before them this policy for scholarships to Harvard college; that the endowed colleges must offer complete scholarships, must supply enough money to pay not only the tuition of the recipient, but his board and lodging, his books and fees; that the alumni groups must seek out the brilliant preparatory student of no financial means, and make it possible for him to receive an education, thus raising the level of student material.

That message applies not only to Harvard alumni, but to all alumni, women as well as men. It changes the emphasis from the benefits gained by the individual student, to the general enrichment of college material. It places upon the local alumni groups the responsibility of seeking out and supporting ability that would have no outlet except through their aid.

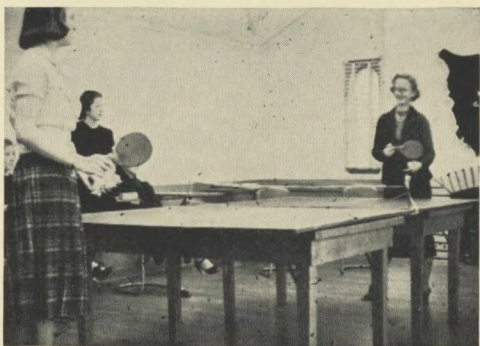

Does not this same duty apply to the favored groups known as fraternity women? Having themselves benefited richly from the educational opportunities usually made easily accessible to them, should not they in gratitude turn about and liberally offer aid to students who crave the same heritage, but who, "through accident of birth," as Dr Conant puts it, "are crippled in their educational opportunities."

Theta alumnae, here is the clarion call. Give thought to the young Theta students who need your timely assistance to help them over the financial obstacles which hamper the best and fullest use of their mental powers. Do not let them dissipate their energies in earning a meager wage for hours of labor. Contribute liberally to the Loan and fellowship fund which enables these Theta students to be Theta scholars, directing their time and effort during the four brief years of college, to the first and fundamental object of advanced education—study.

Versatile Chapter Room

ALPHA LAMBDA'S chapter room is no longer a secret, shut-off part of the house. It serves for study and recreational purposes as well as for chapter meetings and initiation ceremonies.

The walls are cream with a turquoise blue trim on the sidings, individual study tables are built onto the walls but are easily put up or down, comfortable chairs replace old benches, and two powerful ceiling fixtures facilitate studying and give the room a cheery atmosphere. Cards, ping-pong, and general conversations around the fireplace when study-table is over frequently take place, and the chapter room is now truly the center of the Washington chapter.

Loans Available to Thetas

THE POLICY of the loan committee as to the amount of money for each individual loan and the necessary status of applicants has never been definitely fixed; it has varied according to the fluctuations in American prosperity and the changing conditions in economic life. During periods of money scarcity, when the number of student requests has increased tremendously, the committee has endeavored to reach the greatest number of applicants by paring down the maximum amount allotted to each loan. During those periods, when it has been impossible to grant all requests, it has been deemed wiser to favor seniors first, before considering juniors.

Now, however, the fund is larger and a correspondingly greater amount of money is available for student loans, but in inverse ratio the number of applicants has decreased. Consequently the policy of the committee has been adapted to these changed conditions, although fundamentally it is unchanged—the greatest help where it is most needed. Today, not only senior and junior loans are considered, but loans are granted occasionally and under extraordinary circumstances to sophomores. Moreover, the committee now encourages Theta seniors and graduates who have been out of college a year or more and who have realized their need for further specialized study, to apply for a loan which will enable them to concentrate in one particular field for increased knowledge and skill—and monetary rewards that such specialization brings. A first degree no longer bears the magic potency of open-sesame, so ambitious students strive for the master's and doctor's degrees.

The committee encourages students to apply for loans, but it demands specific requirements before it grants such requests. First, scholarship. The applicant by transcripts from the registrar's office must satisfy the committee that her first years in college have produced satisfactory grades. Second, she must have the recommendation of her chapter president and Advisory board, District president, or other alumna closely associated with her chapter. This recommendation has to do with character, those qualities of integrity and dependability which make an individual what is known in insurance parlance as a "good risk." Third, the applicant must have a definite plan for her chosen course of study which will fit her to earn money upon graduation, so that she will be able to return her loan to the fund.

The fraternity wants no young Theta to drop out of college because of lack of funds. The fraternity wants no ambitious student to be satisfied with a four-year college degree if she has the pluck and ability to benefit from further specialized study. But the committee, acting for the fraternity, must safeguard this revolving fund for the use of future generations of Theta students by taking the foregoing precautions in its selection of grantees. Does this not emphasize the fact that to be the recipient of a Theta scholarship loan is an honor, an award of merit, a distinction which announces that this Theta possesses the confidence of her chapter and the confidence of her fraternity?

A Pledge Speaks

THE THRILL of being pledged; crisp, white dresses; the air of silence; candlelight flickering and throwing grotesque shadows on solemn faces; tiny glasses bound together by bands of black and gold; the knowledge that we are bound together by those same bands.

Theta being founded first among women's fraternities; learning more about other fraternities and becoming more and more satisfied with my own; strange though it may seem, cleaning the rooms because of the pride in them I felt afterwards; stopping in to talk, to make a new friend; pledge meetings and the feeling of importance that they gave me. The Christmas tree bringing thoughts of home. The excitement of getting marks; would I make the grade; could I live up to Theta's high standard of scholarship; the awe inspired by signing the loyalty pledge; the anticipation of initiation; oh truly, I have loved the life of a pledge.

NELLY LONGSTAFF, Alpha Delta

A busy person is Mary Virginia Robinson McDougale, Alpha Xi. Mother of 11-year-old Mary Elizabeth, principal of the Washington school in Urbana, Illinois, and secretary of the Champaign-Urbana Theta alumnae club, she has recently been elected to Kappa Delta Pi, education society, and will receive her master's degree from the University of Illinois in June.

Burlington, Vt.—Alice Stage Walker (Mrs Harold J.) 316 E. Main st. Portland, Ind.

BETA—Indiana

On December 11 we entertained Phi Delta Theta at a radio dance. The afternoon was spent in dancing, playing cards and drinking punch. We are planning to entertain each of the men's fraternities on the campus at a similar dance.

Every year at Christmas each house on the campus "adopts" a few of the needy town children and gives them toys, clothes and a big dinner. This year we had two small boys for whom we had a big turkey dinner followed by the presentation of gifts from our large tree.

The annual upperclass date dinner was December 15. The same night Mrs A. Ellison Cole entertained the pledges with a buffet dinner at her home. Her daughter Anna Louise is a member of this year's freshman group.

After a grand Christmas everyone came back to our winter formal, January 8. Jimmy Cathcart's orchestra played for the dance. The rooms were decorated with silvered Christmas trees and southern smilax. We had a mid-night lunch for our house guests after the dance, with impromptu stunts and singing.

Rosemary Treanor was in Chicago for a few days where her father, the Hon. Walter E. Treanor, was given the oath of office as judge of the United States Circuit court of appeals.

Mary Susan Stull appeared in the campus play, Springtime for Henry.

Pledge services were held January 19 for Helen Weatherwax of Bloomington. Helen has recently been made editor of the campus newspaper, first girl to hold the position.

We regret that Mary McCullough and Betty Jean DeShipper will not be back with us after mid-semester vacation. Mary has accepted a position as teacher in Columbus, Indiana, but is planning to finish her college course later.

MARY ANN WYNKOOP

30 January 1938

Married: Mary Louise Warner to Elmo Gilliatt, Σ X, Dec. 4.—Kathrynn Dilts to Phillip Bessire, Σ N, Dec. 4.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Dale Davis (Betty Jane Voorhees) a daughter, Karen Lynn, Nov. 3.

New addresses: Elizabeth Gorrell Caseley (Mrs Donald) 1543 Park av. Apt. 3, Indianapolis, Ind.—Ruth Shryer Clark (Mrs G. S.) 2333 N. New Jersey, Indianapolis, Ind.

GAMMA—Butler

We wish to announce the initiation October 17 of Virginia Blackley (sister of Marion) Betty Behrman, Jeanette Barnett (sister of Grace) Betty Harger, Norma Conder, Sally Heilman, Mary Habich (sister of Margaret) Kitty Lou Fitzgerald, Doris Ellis (sister of Helen) Janet Stratton, Mary Weaver, Ruth Rehm, Betty MacDonald, and Marion Bowman.

Joan Farr of Indianapolis was recently pledged.

We won the silver cup in the Geneva stunt competition which took place November 9 under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A. Virginia Blackley and Ruth Rehm wrote the playlet.

Aline Bailey, Gamma president, Margaret Stump, and Barbara Ballinger were pledged to Phi Kappa Phi last month. We are proud of our trio of brain trusters.

Betty Wangelin and Elizabeth Henderson were recently initiated into Chimes, junior society, and Elizabeth Henderson was elected president of the organization. Margaret Spencer and Elizabeth Henderson were pledged to Kappa Delta Pi, education group. Cathryn Smith and Jane Pfeiffer were pledged to Theta Sigma Phi, journalism society, last month. Barbara Ballinger was elected secretary of the senior class, while Betty Schissle was named treasurer of the junior class.

As usual, the night final examinations were over, we had an informal mid-semester dance. The chapter house was decorated to look like a barn, with bales of hay, and straw and harnesses to add to the realistic effect. The dance had the desired result, for organic chemistry, irregular verbs and such men as Chaucer were forgotten entirely all evening.

JANE PFEIFFER

31 January 1938

Married: Marjorie Tate to W. C. Vogley, May 16, 1937. 2129 Ashwood av. Nashville, Tenn.—Martha Jane Baker to John W. Tyler, Oct. 16. 819 W. 43rd st. Indianapolis, Ind.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Robert W. Behrman (Mary Jane Krull) a daughter, Marjorie Elizabeth, Sept. 25. 129 W. 13th st. Anderson, Ind.

New addresses: Florence E. Corya, Box 83, East Patchogue, L.I., N.Y.

GAMMA DEUTERON—Ohio Wesleyan

Due to exams Gamma deuteron's social life within the last few weeks has been almost wholly confined to teas. On Sunday, January 9, the pledges entertained alumnae and dormitory representatives with a lovely tea at the rooms, and on Wednesday, January 19, the members of our chapter were guests at a tea at the Kappa rooms.

Plans are practically complete for the purchase of a combination victrola and radio for our rooms, although it has been necessary for us to keep the rooms closed the last couple of weeks due to the illness of our house-mother's husband. They will be opened soon.

Gamma deuteron has finally come through in competitive athletics, and we have managed to hold our own in bowling with high hopes of winning the finals, which will be played off within the next week. In the last game the team made the highest score of any women's fraternity this year. We are seriously considering framing the score sheet.

We are sorry to lose two of our members, Marjorie Williams and Janet Cory. Marj has transferred to Toledo University and Janet is graduating. We will miss them a lot.

JANE MCKINNEY
DOROTHY BEATTY

30 January 1938

Married: Margaret Blanche Smith to Harold Emerson Mahony, June 26, 1937. 2308 Jenny Lind av. McKeesport, Pa.—Jeanette Reisser to Herbert F. Brown, Dec. 27. 1462 Northland av. Lakewood, Ohio.

Born: To Dr and Mrs W. L. Brunk (Martha Yingling) a daughter, Sharon, July 13, 1937.—To Mr and Mrs John K. Bartram (Elizabeth Cook) a daughter, Constance, Aug. 13, 1937.—To Mr and Mrs John Randolph (Eileen Pierce) a daughter, Laura Elizabeth, Dec. 15.—To Rev and Mrs Charles Styron (Claora Bell) a daughter, Claora Elizabeth, in September.

New addresses: Elinor Page, 264 N. Bellefield, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Jean Pontius Rindge (Mrs F. H.) 216 High st. Lockport, N.Y.

DELTA—Illinois

Highlight of the past two months has been the annual Y.W.C.A. Doll show. Our scene, Mexican Hat dance, under the capable direction of Bettie Quinlan, won the second place cup. The Y.W. gives all the dolls as Christmas presents to needy children.

Following their usual custom, Delta members went caroling this year. They were entertained during the evening by the Dean of women, Miss Maria Leonard, at her home and by Betty Lohman and Helen Provine, town pledges, at the home of Prof and Mrs L. H. Provine.

A frequent visitor to the chapter house these days is Kate Priestly, who has returned from Chicago to work in the Co-op bookstore, managed by Eunice Cunningham Creamer.

The Union Minstrel show has in its cast three Thetas: Betty Betz, Mary Jane Ives, and Barbara Bartling. Betty is to be in the Women's League show, Follow through, of which Ellen Schnebly is production manager. Ellen was in the cast of Post road, which played in Chicago under the name Leaning on Letty. Beverlie Briggs was on the committee responsible for the sophomore cotillion.

Delta is proud to announce the pledging of Eleanor Jane Firke, Monticello, on January 23.

Virginia Westervelt was elected to Kappa Delta Pi, education society. Emmie Lou Smith was initiated into U.L.A.S., landscape architecture society. Beverlie Briggs and Betty Betz were pledged to Gymnastica, sponsored by the department of physical education.

Founders'-day will be celebrated on February 9. Mrs Grimm, our charming District president, will visit the chapter and speak at the banquet.

ELLEN M. SCHNEBLY

21 January 1938

Married: Carolyn Ewers to Marshall Robertson Jones, T K E, Dec. 31. 108 E. John, Champaign, Ill.—Virginia Mary Savage to Albert Weston Hall, A Δ Φ, Jan. 5. 871 N. College, Jacksonville, Ill.—Audrey Jane Truitt to Frank Shaver McCabe, Nov. 27. 2249 Ridge av. Evanston, Ill.

Born: To Betty Kirk Hanna (Mrs James) a son, Dec. 30.

New addresses: Jean Smith Schulz (Mrs W. F. jr.) 1649 Greenleaf av. Chicago, Ill.—Betty Thurston Lium (Mrs Ade) 528 Clark av. Billings, Mont.—Sally Carr Hickox (Mrs N. Lee) 1642 Estes, Chicago, Ill.—Ethel Young Jacobsen (Mrs Alfred E.) 7043 Bennett, Chicago, Ill.—Nancy Mead, 4545 Woodlawn, Chicago, Ill.—Evelyn Moulton Chamberlin (Mrs R. W.) 16603 Ernest av. Cleveland, Ohio.—Catherine Hawbaker Pogson (Mrs P. W.) 917 McKelligon, El Paso, Tex. (correction)—Martha Dean, Hotel Statler, Cleveland, Ohio.

ETA—Michigan

On December 1, Eta had an exchange dinner with Phi Delta Theta. It was thoroughly enjoyed, and we are hoping that the one with Sigma Alpha Epsilon scheduled the first week in the new semester will be equally successful.

Our semiannual faculty supper took place

December 12, the day after our pledge formal (which, incidentally, was a lot of fun). On this occasion we invite as many as two hundred professors and their wives for tea from 4:30 to 7:00 P.M.

Our Christmas party was on the following Wednesday night. Pledges and members gathered in the living room near the warm fire to exchange funny gifts accompanied by clever poems. This year the party was unusually enjoyable, since the German student club came by just at the close of the party and serenaded us with Christmas carols.

Then upon returning from vacation we discovered that a few of our sisters had announced their engagements by means of the traditional five pound box of candy. This box contains a card with the names of the couple and is read and passed around the round table at dinner time. Then the sisters burst into song and are "delighted to add the young man to the chapter roll." Jean Laitner and Donald Williams, both of Detroit, and Maxine Dennis (Beta Beta) and Karl Giller of Shelby, Ohio, are the two couples that presented candy this month.

The president of District VI paid our chapter a short visit December 7 while on her tour of inspection of student organizations. Now we are awaiting the visit of our own District III president, Mrs Williams, who will arrive during the first week of the new semester.

DORIS R. HOLT

23 January 1938

Married: Dorothy LeMire to John Root, Jan. 22. Marshall Field Garden apts. Chicago, Ill.—Tennie Vaden to M. McWhorter Winn, July 30, 1937. Box 462, Celina, Tex.

Cornelia Morse has been elected to Alpha Omega Alpha, national medical honor society.

KAPPA—Kansas

"We welcome you!" is Kappa's quotable quote for this month. Fifty members have been occupying a new home (on 1433 Tennessee st.) since January 2. On February 2 and 6 the college chapter and Lawrence alumnae entertained students, faculty members and their wives or husbands, and various townspeople at house openings. The house had a real birthday as numerous gifts were received from various friends. Gifts included silver pitchers, candlesticks and platters, flower bowls, a card table, pictures and flowers. More than 800 guests already are listed in the new guest book! The girls are anxious to have Thetas from other chapters visit them in their new home and add their names to the guest list.

Here for the open house occasion was none other than Grand president Mrs Grasett, who was in the receiving line. Mrs Grasett gave suggestions and assistance invaluable at this time, and the girls were sorry to see her leave.

The new house hasn't taken all of the girls' time and attention, though. Jean Eichen-berger and Charlene Barber are chorus dancers in the musical comedy Spring sing, sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi. Dorothy Fritz will take part in a skit in the same comedy, and Mary Ellen De Motte will act as costume mistress.

Rosamond Barr and Dorothy Fritz are honorary members of the radio class this semester, and Sue Fowler and Jane Flood take part in a weekly news broadcast over KFKU.

Betty Butcher, pledge who made 15 hours of 'A' her first semester, has a part in the next student dramatic production, Spring dance.

Alice Russell and Joyce Vetter are working on a two-piano recital which they will give this spring.

Outstanding intramural basketball players, Jane Blaney, Ruth Olive Brown, Patty Woodward and Jane Flood will represent the chapter on class teams.

Kappa is proud to announce the pledging of Dorothy Noble, Kansas City, Missouri, February 8. Dorothy is living in the house in the vacancy left by a last semester pledge, Jean Cardwell of Wichita, who is touring South America with her parents.

JANE FLOOD

8 February 1938

Married: Betty Gibson to Murray Hartshorn Hodges, June 17, 1937. 219 E. 7th st. Bartlesville, Okla.—Mary Hartnett to William F. Hazen, Oct. 24. 2614 Grove av. Richmond, Va.—Betty Creager to J. I. Poole, Oct. 9.

Towers, Dallas, Tex.—Jeanette Bowersock, 1650 Oxford blvd. Berkeley, Calif.

LAMBDA—Vermont

On November 17 the alumnae and college chapters gave a reception for Miss Mary Jean Simpson, new Dean of women and a Lambda Theta. Representative from the other college and alumnae chapters on the hill, faculty wives and women on the faculty, and Theta mothers were invited.

That same week we had two days of open house for the grand group of freshman girls here this year. Not too modestly, we feel that there was an unusual spontaneity about the whole affair. Even the second afternoon, sometimes less stimulating than the first, was fun for all of us.

The next night we had our fall "Suzi Q" dance at the house. Of course at this stage in the week we were all pretty weary, but we struggled with decorations, removed doors, and became proficient at getting tables 9 feet by 12 feet through doorways 5 feet by 8 feet! One room was decorated in night club fashion with a bar from which was served punch and pop-corn and at which our "Suzi" Sussdorff in top hat and tails officiated.

To top off our already full week the juniors gave a buffet spaghetti supper Sunday night for the chapter. Everyone wore pants of some kind, we played games and trucked like mad.

Between Thanksgiving and Christmas we gave a spaghetti supper for the general public at which we had a large and varied attendance. It was hard work but fun, and most important of all, very profitable.

Just before Christmas recess the sophomores gave a Christmas party for the chapter. We exchanged inexpensive presents with pertinent verses attached. This and an excellent supper in the holiday mood—our home economics students make a bright spot on our social horizon—sent us off not to meet again until after vacation.

So home for Christmas after a series of dances on the hill and a final college play with Lambda's outstanding Thespians, Priscilla Newton and Mildred Rockwood, in starring rôles.

Mildred Rockwood was elected to Phi Beta Kappa early in December.

Last week in an all-college poll conducted by the student newspaper, six out of nine women's places were filled by Thetas: most brains, Mildred Rockwood; best athlete, Betsey Taylor; hardest worker, Bonita Matthews; most popular, has done the most for U.V.M., and most likely to succeed, Barbara Sussdorff.

On January 29 alumnae and undergraduates celebrated Founders'-day at the house with a delicious supper provided by the alumnae. Then we played silly and also scientific games. It was a grand party.

MARGARET MACMARTIN

30 January 1938

Married: Elizabeth Hollis Bedell to Edmund B. Sutton, Dec. 4. Hanover, N.H.—Laura Wooster Tracy to M. Coleman Twitchell, jr. Dec. 28. 73 Park dr. Apt. 25, Boston, Mass.

Brookfield, Vt.—Emma Richardson St. Clare (Mrs C. C.) 9 College st. Port Henry, N.Y.—Helen Ruth Tracy Parker (Mrs J. M.) 171 W. 71st st. New York, N.Y.—Marjorie Eisenwinter Eaton (Mrs Allen) Swampscott, Mass.—Miriam Hitchcock Chapin (Mrs E. E.) 1442 Sherbrooke st. W. Montreal, P.Q. Canada.

MU—Allegheny

We are busy making plans for the remainder of this year. On Saturday, February 19, we will initiate Martha Lukehart, Dorothy Daniels, and Sara Henry, and have our Founders'-day banquet immediately following. We have a new program of guest speakers for the second meeting of each month, which we think will be valuable as well as entertaining. We have plans for fraternity education programs which will be started as soon as semester vacation is over. We placed much emphasis on college work last semester, and are anxious to see if our various plans to bring up our scholastic standing have worked. I hope we will have more news for you next time.

MARTHA PORT

31 January 1938

Born: To Mr and Mrs Kyle I. Robinson (Ellen Louise Wasson) a daughter, Judith, Sept. 6.

New addresses: Elvira Aronson Campbell (Mrs R. W.) 303 N. Maple av. Greensburg, Pa.—Ruth Staples Hamilton (Mrs J. B.) 120 Dwight st. New Haven, Conn.—Jessamine DeHaven Lewis (Mrs C. L.) 1722 State av. Coraopolis, Pa.—Mary Anita Watson Martin (Mrs Hudson) 4197 Walnut st. Riverside, Calif.—Betty Blake Cameron (Mrs W. V.) 512 N.E. 27th st. Miami, Fla.—Myra Kelley, Christodora House, 601 E. 9th st. New York, N.Y.—Mary Katherine Arnold Megahan (Mrs D. B.) 106 N. Robb av. Robinson, Ill.

OMICRON—Southern California

Starting the year out in the most exciting way possible, we held our formal at the famed Trocadero café on January 15. Jenny Dye planned the dinner dance, with Gloria and Barbara Young as her assistants. Highlight of our Hollywood evening was watching Marlene Dietrich do the Big Apple while such notables as Loretta Young and Norma Shearer applauded!

Needless to say, we were still talking about our star-studded formal when we gathered at Betty Peir's home the next day for a rush tea. Under Jane Rosenberger's direction, we are entertaining prospective U.S.C. "Trojaners" at informal dinners at the chapter house each week as a build-up to the opening of formal rush week on February 22.

So thrilled were we over our gift from the pledges—a radio-recording machine—that we rolled up the rugs for a spur-of-the-moment dance after a Monday night meeting. New furniture has arrived since that date, however, and with two new davenports and a newly-dyed rug in our living room, our enthusiasm for furniture moving has quite disappeared.

Sherlock Holmes would have been a welcome addition to our chapter during December and January when on three different nights a thief made away with money taken from our purses upstairs while we were at dinner. Flattered as we were to be, with the Pi Phis, the only victims on campus, we were definitely relieved when "Sorority Sam," as he was dubbed by the Daily Trojan, was captured.

On a veritable summer day, we journeyed out to the Huntington hotel in Pasadena to join with Beta Xi and Los Angeles and Pasadena alumnae for a lovely Founders'-day luncheon.

Keeping fit during finals is no hard task for us now, so anxious are we to try out the new badminton set for which we spent the Christmas money given us by the Pasadena alumnae. Horseback riding is another sport attracting both college members and alumnae, and a group which makes its theme song Boots and saddle each Monday includes Mary Elizabeth Rees, La Verne Rutherford, Kay Higgins, Lucille Martin, Nancy Massey, Margo Rogers, and Dorothy Dolde Martin.

Leaving us right in the midst of finals, Helen Blackman will set sail for Hawaii and New Zealand February 3. Another traveller in our ranks is Betsy Ann Moss, who is "seeing America first" as a member of Sonja Henie's ice skating ballet.

CECILE HALLINGBY

29 January 1938

Married: Mary Claire Johansing to Robert Walter Van Lahr, Jan. 25.—Mary Louise Bouelle to John Dye.—Dorothy Clark to Robert Anthony Smith, Jan. 4.

New addresses: Margaret Wirsching del Valle (Mrs Frank) 401 4th st. Manhattan Beach, Calif.—Lois Craig, 481 2nd av. Upland, Calif.—Priscilla-Jane Frazer, Box 363, Laguna Beach, Calif.—Blanche Robertson Barnes (Mrs J. W.) Law Arcada building, Santa Barbara, Calif.

RHO—Nebraska

Pre-holiday festivities consisted mostly of Christmas parties. As usual, the alumnae and chapter were hostesses to Theta children at a Christmas party. The pledges presented a clever skit called "The circus comes to town." Faith Arnold Davies was in charge of the party.

Immediately afterwards, the chapter serenaded "fraternity row" with Christmas carols. Then the chapter had its own party. Dime gifts, accompanied by clever original verses, each reflecting the holiday spirit, were exchanged. From the alumnae, however, came real gifts. The Lincoln group gave two beautiful silver pitchers; the Omaha group, two lovely silver serving trays. Both gifts were greatly needed and appreciated by the house.

Pre-holiday honors consisted of the selection of Katherine Adams, Patricia Byers, Elinor Farrell, and Margaret McKay as company sponsors for the Military Ball.

Rho's annual formal was held January 28, at the Hotel Cornhusker. Jane Eldridge, social chairman, was in charge of the arrangements.

Rho is sorry to lose Ruth Austin, who has moved to Decatur, Illinois, and Rebekah Oldfather, who has transferred to Oberlin to complete the college year; but we are happy to welcome Bette Brown, Central City, who was pledged in the fall but was unable to remain in college, and has now returned.

JANE ELDRIDGE

1 February 1938

Married: Marjorie E. Smith to Nathan A. Allen, jr. June 12, 1937. 1227 J st. Apt. A-2, Lincoln, Neb.—Louise Powell to Tom Lewis Alberts, Apr. 3, 1937. 139 N. Market st. St. Clairsville, Ohio.

Born: To Mr and Mrs David Herries (Elizabeth Colwell) a son.

New addresses: Elizabeth Morgan Day (Mrs L. E.) 135 N. 32nd av. Omaha, Neb.—Jean Towne Glover (Mrs R. D.) 120 S. Poinsettia pl. Los Angeles, Calif.—Lorraine Landstrom Rickley (Mrs M. A.) 902 S. 55th st. Omaha, Neb.—Violet Cross Bulger (Mrs C. R.) 21 S. Highland av. Akron, Ohio.—Florence Angle Reed (Mrs Guy E.) Prairie View, Ill.—Helen Drummond Southwick (Mrs L. E.) 717 E. Chestnut, Santa Ana, Calif.

SIGMA—Toronto

On Monday, December 6, we were glad to have at our regular meeting Mrs French, our District president. Her visit was short but we all enjoyed the few hours she was able to spend with us.

On Saturday, December 18, was held the annual Panhellenic tea at which the first year girls are given an opportunity of meeting representatives from all fraternities on campus and at which they receive instructions regarding rushing.

Our last get-together of the fall term took the form of a Christmas party given by alumnae for members of the college chapter. Part of the evening was spent in making Christmas stockings for needy families.

The first two weeks of the spring term were completely filled with rushing. Sigma is pleased to announce the pledging of Jean Wallace, daughter of Muriel Cameron Wallace. We were also glad to have the opportunity of affiliating Virginia Cook from Beta Chi at Alberta. Virginia is in first year commerce and finance here, and we are all delighted to have her with us in Sigma.

We are also proud to announce that Edith Lehto, Margaret Burnette and Margaret Mickle were honoured by invitations to join Sigma Phi, journalistic society.

LOIS FLEMING

27 January 1938

Born: To Mr and Mrs M. H. Moore (Isobel Price) a son, Dec. 26.

Engaged: Anna Stockdale to Robert Hillery.

New addresses: Jessie Paterson Blaisdell (Mrs J. L.) Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, London, Ont.—Elizabeth M. Bonny, 9 Patchin pl. New York, N.Y.—Tannis Somerset Lee (Mrs R. H.) 3845 Chesterbrook rd. Arlington, Va.—Jean Gogo, 13 Cornelia st. Apt. 5D, New York, N.Y.

TAU—Northwestern

Tau is proud to announce the initiation of Nancy Porter into Phi Beta Kappa. Nancy had maintained an average of A— or better during her six semesters here, and is also on the senior council (governing body of the senior class) senior Theta in Shi-Ai, a member of Mortar board, and a member of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Nancy and Marge Kenney were chosen by the deans of their respective schools to be on the Foundation Fund committee of the university.

Five Thetas were picked from many contestants for parts in the Waa-Mu show, Northwestern's annual musical comedy. Ruth Groman, Lois Keller, Dorothy Wheeler, and Dorothy Spahr were chosen for the show girls' unit, while Helen Mae Pearson is a member of the dancing girls' unit.

Madge Clark, pledge, was elected president of Willard hall, freshman girls' dormitory; Betty Mae Dannell, another pledge, is advertising manager of the women's section of the Syllabus, year book; and Barbara Freeman, a third outstanding pledge, had charge of the refreshments for the freshman informal dance. Seven freshman pledges were elected to the freshman assembly, a body organized to assist the class commission. These girls are Sally Veeder, Joyce Kennett, Connie Maas, Barbara Freeman, Madge Clark, Mary Lou Huggett, and Pat Stevens.

Pat Steffens and Dorothy Wheeler have been elected to sophomore commission. Jane Scott Wilson, who would have been a sophomore at Northwestern this year, has recently signed a contract with Fred Waring which makes her a permanent member of the Waring organization and glee club.

Tau celebrated Founders'-day by a luncheon at Marshall Field's in Chicago on Saturday, January 29. Alumnæ, taking pity on exam-haggard undergraduates, provided a clever skit whose keynote was Progress, the password of Theta. Mrs Grimm, president of District II, gave a report on District activities, and we were especially fortunate to have Mrs Grasett with us, giving an interesting report on the position and condition of Theta nationally. The Tau trio, Shirley Richardson Taylor, Shirley Larson Fisher, and Myra Jane Hutton Sunderland, concluded the program.

This year we have continued exchange dinners with men's fraternities. That is, our freshmen and sophomores go to the men's house for dinner while the juniors and seniors of the men's fraternity come to our house. We have found this to be an excellent way to promote cooperation and good feeling between men's and women's fraternities. In November we had an exchange dinner with Phi Delta Theta, and in the week after the holidays we had dinner with Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Chi.

The annual winter formal, given January 7 at the Sovereign hotel under the direction of Mary Lee Brown, was a "howling success."

Tau is sorry that Dorothy Day, Mary Lou Shaw, Mary Lee Brown and Virginia Tucker, pledge, are leaving Northwestern this February.

Joan Imig, 124 Prospect st. New Haven, Conn. is doing graduate work at Yale.

UPSILON—Minnesota

Among those off to Florida are Joyce Kerr, Marion O'Shaughnessy and the Compton sisters, Barbara and Virginia. Owing to the usual Minnesota extreme of cold winter weather we have lugged out our ski suits—not alone for the pleasure of winter sports, but to protect us on our way to the campus which is four long blocks from tenth avenue where live the fraternity girls.

Many of us prefer to burrow at home throughout most of the quarter, but some are braver. Lillian Christie spends her afternoons on the copy desk of the Minnesota Daily where she reads copy and writes headlines. Barbara Speier, pledge, writes society news for the Daily, and Eleanor Ryden is a reporter. Yvonne Stoddard is editor of all copy for the Gopher, Minnesota yearbook.

The social event of the winter quarter is the Junior ball February 11, at which Anson Weeks' orchestra will play. Ruth Kircher is co-chairman of the entertainment committee for the Jay-Bee. She has also been pledged to Zeta Phi Eta, national speech society for women. Mary K. Cook is on the orchestra committee for the ball. The most important aim of the chapter as a whole this quarter is to raise our scholarship average and we have high hopes of doing so.

PHI—Stanford

December 10 was the date of our very gay Christmas party. The banquet was a costume affair with gifts and poems presented to each member of the house by the sophomores. It was our last chance to relax before finals, and the Christmas spirit flourished.

We were exceedingly pleased to pledge on January 15 Lucy Day Bell (sister of Jean) Marjorie Forward, San Diego; Frances Dorr, Los Angeles; Kathleen Benet, Palo Alto; Jane Bruer, San Francisco; Ruth Ide, Pasadena; Janet Scott and Barbara Sherwood, Piedmont; Mary-Belle Trent, Honolulu, Hawaii; Lydia Wood, Portland, Oregon.

On the night of pledging we held a jolly-up, and served doughnuts and cider to a large group of guests. The following day we had our pledge luncheon at the Menlo Country club.

We regret the inability of Roberta Jean Rankin to continue her studies here this quarter. She went home to recuperate from pneumonia. Dulce Parker also left us in the middle of the quarter to go home to prepare for her wedding in May. We also miss Ann Cornwell who did not return, and we hope she will be back soon. After an absence of two quarters, during which she took an extended trip through Europe, Jean Campbell has returned to college.

CHI—Syracuse

December festivities included a chapter tea for the fathers, the annual Christmas formal, and a Santa Claus party given by the pledges. The chapter entertained the pledges at tea on December 4.

Two seniors, Jean Ayling and Hildegard Haight, were elected to Phi Kappa Phi. Jean Ayling was also elected to Alpha Kappa Delta, national sociology group. Pledged to Zeta Phi Eta, national speech society, was Dorothy Reydel. Joan Hensel was initiated into Boars Head, dramatic society.

Jane Whitney is a candidate for Queen of the Winter carnival, one of Syracuse' traditional events. The cup given for the best winter carnival poster was awarded to Dorothy Wende.

Our guest room has been beautifully re-decorated by the Mothers' club. This club is also awarding a silver loving cup to the women's residence group with the greatest number of points for W.A.A. activities.

Chi is planning a tea in honor of Gamma Phi Beta, to take place in February.

PSI—Wisconsin

"Wiskits" is the all-university women's project sponsored by the W.A.A. Each year there are tryouts for any women's organizations, and the final program is given in March or April. This year Psi's skit is entitled Snow White and the seven Stags. Written by Betty and Mary Adams, it is a modern take-off on the old fairy tale, done in poetry and set to music, with the characters of Snow White and the seven Stags representing campus celebrities. We are proud of our skit and have secret hopes that it may win first place.

We are thrilled to announce that there are two Thetas in the court of honor to the Prom Queen. They are Jeanne Henkel, chapter president, and Martha Calland, transfer from Beta Tau. Martha is a talented whistler and tap dancer, and Jeanne is president of the Panhellenic council. The honor was conferred for beauty and campus activities.

OMEGA—California

Omega is happy to announce the pledging of Ruth Gail Hill (niece of Elizabeth Burnham Hill) on January 25. We were glad to be able to present her with the rest of the pledge class at the Founders'-day luncheon on January 29. This year we celebrated Founders'-day at the Women's Athletic club in Oakland, as guests of Berkeley alumnae. Twenty-three chapters were represented and 198 Thetas attended. It is the custom of the Berkeley and San Francisco alumnae groups to give rings to the pledges from Phi and Omega having the highest scholarship. This year Cornelia Clark from Omega was the winner of the ring from Berkeley alumnae. It is with pride that we again announce that our pledges won the cup for the best skit.

Intramural signups were conducted this past week and many Thetas signed up. We have won the plaque several times in the spring semester, and so, under the leadership of Patricia Wachob, chairman of intramural, we have high hopes for this year.

Plans for Omega's new house are rapidly going forward under the leadership of Mrs Freeborn. The girls are highly enthusiastic about the idea and are looking forward to helping the alumnae in any way possible.

Harriet Leebrick is back again this semester, after being away for a year. Harriet has been studying at Columbia for the past six months. We are missing Jean Kleeburger, Jane Gibson, and Martha Dierssen, who did not come back this year.

On February 24 Omega and Phi are joining together to give a fashion show tea at the Hotel Mark Hopkins. The success of the show last year has prompted the Mothers' clubs, alumnae and college chapter to give it again.

JOSEPHINE LION

New addresses: Catharine DeMotte Greene (Mrs A. E.) 2903 Dwight way, Berkeley, Calif.

ALPHA GAMMA—Ohio State

December was eventful for Alpha Gamma. First and foremost was the visit of Mrs Grasett. Aside from the usual conferences and meetings, we all had informal conversations with her; and now we are ready for a bigger and better year in Kappa Alpha Theta. A tea was given in her honor, and she was present also for our honorary badge service December 5. Katharine Faulder received the senior scholarship badge, Katharine Sharp and Jane McCoy received the junior personality badge and will wear it alternately, and Jean Waid and Dorothy Bramble will share the sophomore activities badge.

The annual father-daughter banquet was at the chapter house December 12. If any of you have missed the opportunity of learning to know your fathers better, please take heed! Such an informal supper as we had, with singing and skits, will be one of the most enjoyable evenings you could have.

We have three new pledges; Betty Paisley, Cleda Jones and Virginia Powell. Cleda and Betty both have parts in Stage door, Strollers' winter quarter production. Also in the cast are Mary Helen Clinger, Elizabeth Kiplinger, Katharine Faulder and Peggy Smith. Elizabeth Martin is ticket chairman for the production. Alpha Gamma seems to have gone definitely dramatic. Mary Jane Allread has been elected treasurer of Women's Ohio, and Marcella Randall wears the pledge scholarship bracelet.

The week of January 17 a new type of lecture program began for college students, Religious and life week. Lectures and meetings were held each night, led by well-known theologians. This is the first lecture series of its kind on any campus in the country, Ohio State being selected especially for the initial program. Other colleges are beginning the same type of program under the auspices of similar organizations. Besides attending the meetings, Alpha Gamma entertained Dr Harry Cotton, a Columbus minister.

We have instigated a new scholarship contest. Members and pledges combined are divided into two teams. Every grade, daily, quiz or midterm, must be recorded by each girl. At the beginning of spring quarter the losing team will give a party for the winning team. It has added a spirit of competition to lessons, and we're anxiously awaiting that party.

Our Mothers' club, Fathers' club, and alumnae are sponsoring a Kappa Alpha Theta carnival April 29 and 30. An outstanding event of the carnival will be the award of a new Ford V-8 to the lucky person with the right number. We are all working hard selling chances for this drawing. The mothers of each class are working on a separate project. Mothers of pledges are selling stationery and mothers of juniors are having a dessert bridge February 15.

The Theta-Kappa backward dance will be February 5. Preparations are being made to drive in hearses, and to send lovely corsages of assorted fruits and vegetables. Martha Squier is in charge of the stag dinner to be attended by those who are going without dates. This week-end promises to be one of the merriest, for on that one night the girls will have to pay and pay and pay.

Our latest claim to beauty lies in Jean Simpson, our candidate for Makio queen.

As a parting thought we remember the Founders'-day banquet January 26. Once again we tender our greetings and best wishes to Bettie Locke Hamilton, the only living Founder of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Clara Marshall is working for her Master's degree in business administration at Boston university.

ALPHA DELTA—Goucher

January 18 Founders'-day was celebrated by a banquet at the Baltimore Country club. Claire von Markes Stieff was in charge of arrangements. Over 60 Thetas, including Baltimore alumnae and Alpha Delta, attended the function. Adelaide Porter Thompson, president of Baltimore alumnae, presided at the banquet, while Marjorie Groothius, Alpha Delta's president, acted as toastmistress. The letters in the word Theta were used for a series of toasts. Dorothy Cort talked on Tolerance, Estelle Hutchins on the Heart, Anne Rutherford on Energy, Mildred Arnold on the Twin stars, and Virginia Davis Boyce on Aspiration. After this program the initiation service was impressively performed by a group of alumnae. The following pledges were initiated: Dorothy Cort, Eleanor Hall, Barbara Ruetnik, and Harriet Bartholow. Two Theta mothers, Dorothy's and Eleanor's, attended the services.

One of Goucher's customs is the annual Sing-Song, a contest between the four classes for the best rendition of the class songs. Keen rivalry has grown around this tradition. Frances Jane Diver is Sing-Song captain for the class of 1940.

Other Thetas figuring in college and social activities are Marjorie Groothius, production manager of the annual senior play; Anne Hutchins, chairman of the annual Panhellenic dance, which is to be February 4 at the Maryland Casualty building; and Harriet Bartholow, who was presented by her aunt to New York society in late December at the Waldorf-Astoria.

On January 25 Alpha Delta had a faculty tea, enthusiastically attended. The chapter's first tea dance in several years will be February 5.

ANNE DONALD

31 January 1938

Married: Anne Phelan Wright to W. Carl Lohmeyer, Apr. 6, 1937. 109 W. 29th st. Baltimore, Md.

New addresses: Mary Alice Truitt Horn (Mrs Harry) 106 E. John st. Champaign, Ill.—Elizabeth Gibbs Lloyd (Mrs H. W.) 3769 Ault Park av. Cincinnati, Ohio (correction).—Emily Chesney Stacey (Mrs F. B.) 213 W. 73rd terr. Kansas City, Mo.

ALPHA ETA—Vanderbilt

Alpha Eta is proud to announce that 13 new members are wearing Theta badges since January 23. They are Florence Abernathy, Ellen Bowers, Shirley Caldwell, Susan Cheek, Annie Lee Crowell, Whitola Driskill, Mary Ruth Franklin, Mary Helen Henry, Virginia McClellan, Susan Scoggins (sister of Ethel Sara) Harriet Short, Catherine Simpson, and Jane Vance.

Mrs Quillian, District president, spent several days in Nashville as the guest of Mary Louise Bearden. Wishing that she had been able to stay with us longer, we regretfully said goodbye to her after formal initiation on January 23.

On January 27 Alpha Eta entertained at the Founders'-day banquet in honor of Chancellor and Mrs O. C. Carmichael. The inauguration of the chancellor took place on February

3. Other invited guests included some of the deans of the university. Evelyn Norton acted as toastmistress and the credit for the success of the banquet is hers. The program included a dance given by Anne Jackson and Jane Vance, a piano solo by Juanita Roberts, and a song by the sextette. Jane Vance was awarded the badge given by alumnæ to the freshman making the highest scholastic average. Susan Cheek was given Sixty years in Kappa Alpha Theta, as the most outstanding freshman.

Practices for song night have already begun although it will not take place until March 1. Basketball practices are already under way too. We have also begun rushing by inviting seniors in high school to luncheon on Saturdays.

LOUISE DOUGLAS

30 January 1938

Married: Eunice Slemons to J. Andrew Gaines, Nov. 26.—Adelaide Gaines Douglas to Reuben Ervin Peterson, Δ Θ II, Jan. 25.—Shelby Warwick to Clement Greene, Sept. 11. 808 N. Patterson st. Valdosta, Ga.

New addresses: Harriet Woods Erwin (Mrs James) 58 Union av. Schenectady, N.Y.—Marianne Widener Casper (Mrs J. C.) 116 St. Mary's st. Raleigh, N.C.—Inda Wilson Fornoff (Mrs Charles) 1280 E. 2nd S. Salt Lake City, Utah.

ALPHA THETA—Texas

No letter received 8 February 1938.

Married: Mary Margaret Haring to Henry Bennett Barnes, jr. July 24, 1937. 606 W. Craig, San Antonio, Tex.—Bess Olson to David Edward Franklin, Sept. 23. 2401 9th st. Virginia Ann Henderson is working at Neiman Marcus in Dallas.

Mary Kiley and Katherine Letteer are teaching in Blanco.

Catherine Cobb is working in Houston for an oil company.

Mary Hoyle Heatly is head of the mathematics department in Corpus Christi high school.

ALPHA IOTA—Washington (St. Louis)

At the military ball Agnes Jane Gilliam was made honorary major of the R.O.T.C. Other Thetas who have received the same honor at this colorful annual affair are Jane Faust, Marjorie Penney, our president June Pentland and Jane Sheehan.

Jane Chivvis was initiated on December 21 into Phi Sigma Iota, romance language society. Mary Louise Conrades, Louise Mutrux and Emily Turman are also members.

Mary Eicher, Margaret McKelvey, Elenor Meir, and Mary Jane Siegel were initiated into W.A.A.

On the afternoon of December 22 we had a gay and festive time at our Christmas party at the home of Mary Louise Conrades. Mary Ramsay was Santa Claus and handed out Woolworth presents which, having significant poems attached, caused much hilarity. The following evening was the Theta Christmas dinner dance at the Algonquin Country club. In our best holiday spirits, we enjoyed what we considered to be the best dance of the year.

The chapter also received a great deal of vicarious Christmas cheer by the help it extended to a family in less fortunate circumstances. Baskets of food, clothes and toys for the children were received with appreciation. Margaret Smith was in charge of collecting the gifts. She was helped by Virginia Kreutzer and Charlotte Fairbank.

We have been having daily singing practices for the intersorority sing which will take place the end of February.

EMILY TURMAN

26 January 1938

Engaged: Jane Davis to Woodrow McDonald Lamb, Paragould, Ark.—Aurelia Gerhard to Arthur Charters Gaines, jr.—Lucie Richardson to John Eugene North.

ette Jennings, 619 S. 2nd st. Mankato, Minn.—Louise Jackson, 11501 Mayfield rd. Cleveland, Ohio.—Mary Frances Grote Gregg (Mrs H. L.) 604 E. 59th st. Kansas City, Mo.—Clara Nipher, Miss Gill's school, Mendham, N.J.—Josephine Sunkel Noland (Mrs Robert J.) 5892 Cabanne, St. Louis, Mo.

ALPHA KAPPA—Adelphi

We took time out from exams for our alumnae supper meeting, and met a larger group of alumnae than we had seen for a year.

The traditional pledge theatre party came and went, leaving us a bit non-plussed at the sly witticisms of Amphitryon 38, starring the inimitable Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne. Several alumnae came along to help us entertain the pledges, among them Helen Lucas, Gerry Mason, Helen McKeon, and Ruth Schlobohm.

Founders'-day luncheon was held at Beekman towers January 29. Those who attended haven't stopped raving yet about Mrs Herrick, the guest speaker. All agree that those who didn't attend missed a marvelous speech; frankly, one of the best in years.

Aida King entertained the chapter for luncheon during Christmas vacation. We were glad of this, since it was the only opportunity the members had to see each other during the two weeks of the vacation.

Mary Sanders, an alumna, invited the chapter for a supper meeting at her home on January 31. We enjoyed seeing Sue O'Connell, Ellen Penny, and of course, Mary herself, again.

Betty Rae Alger has been selected for a part in Varsity show, which takes place March 11. This year, the production will be Pride and prejudice by Jane Austen.

Betty Hammond is a member of the freshman class basketball team.

We are all looking forward to the supper meeting at Lelia Brady's home on February 24.

GLADYS MONTGOMERY

1 January 1938

ALPHA LAMBDA—Washington

January 29 was a day of happiness for Alpha Lambda. Patricia Hergert, chapter president, initiated Elizabeth Ambrose, Marian Bloomquist (daughter of Gladys Lovewell Bloomquist, Delta) Jane Brokaw (daughter of Fay Wright Brokaw, Alpha Nu) Betty Des Camp, Diane Dickinson, Ingrid Flakstad, Betty Gibbs, Jane Griffiths, Katherine Huick, Polly Poe, Henna Culmbach, Margaret Anne Sevenich, Gretchen Ann Smith, Jeanne Ward (sister of Dorothy, Beta Theta) Lois Johnson, Peggy Moren, and Patricia Ann Riley.

After receiving congratulations, flowers and gifts, the seventeen new initiates and their mothers were honored with a lunch at the chapter house. The afternoon furnished a brief respite but we were together again soon, and this time we were joined with over one hundred other Thetas who helped us celebrate Founders'-day banquet and the thirtieth anniversary of Alpha Lambda. Virginia Weiner was in charge of an exceptionally delightful banquet. The entertainment consisted of speeches grouped around the theme of "Theta best sellers," and music offered by the Theta sextet. The last honor bestowed on the initiates was an informal dance held at the chapter house. So ended a day of utmost importance to Alpha Lambda, new and old.

We are pleased to announce the pledging, during winter quarter, of Polly Ann Schnoor (daughter of Irene Farley Schnoor).

Scholarship honors this quarter go to Marian Bloomquist and Barbara Curran, who head the list with fifteen hours of A and twelve hours of A, respectively.

KATE ROBBINS

29 January 1938

Married: Elizabeth McCoy to Evert Arnold, Dec. 21. 925 11th av. N. Seattle, Wash.—Berwin Hulbert to Frank E. Culp, X ♀, Aug. 7, 1937. 106 W. 18th, Olympia, Wash.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Robert M. Hardy (Jean McCurdy) a daughter, Nancy Jean, July 4, 1937.

New addresses: Katherine Duffy, Y.W.C.A. 1001 N. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill.—Margaret N. Johnson, U. S. Veterans' hospital, Roseburg, Ore.

ALPHA MU—Missouri

Plans for Founders'-day are under way with an alumnae association meeting arranged for February 19, to make definite plans for a new house by fall, followed that night by Founders'-day banquet. Initiation will be held February 20. Best of all is that our District president, Pauline Brannock Moore, has promised to be with us.

Then, to top everything off for the new initiates, we are giving our second formal of the year February 26.

Theta has come to the front in intramural athletics, taking first place from Kappa. This was achieved by the work of Maxine Lehen, who won the ping-pong singles, and our "Annie Oaklies." We were especially happy when Virginia Roberts, Shirley Drew, and Mary Alicia Megede won first in pistol, because, as it is the third successive year, the cup becomes our permanent possession. This year, too, we won first in rifle with Virginia Roberts, Laura Louise Dille, and Mary Davidson shooting for us. Virginia, incidentally, has made quite a record for herself, being one of the three girls in the history of the school chosen for the university men's pistol team.

For Savitar queen candidates the chapter selected Laura Louise Dille, Margie Cherry, and Virginia Coulter.

ELIZABETH O'BRIEN

Caroline Petersen is teaching at Clarksville, Mo.

ALPHA NU—Montana

Before the holidays our pledges gave their usual pledge party. We started with supper, of course, and ended with a bountiful Santa Claus who had presents for everybody and some to spare. In between the pledges gave their little skit which gave them a grand opportunity to get back at the chapter.

During our one week of open rushing we pledged two transfers: Polly Steele, Butte; and Connie Sullivan, Livingston; as well as Lois Baur, Columbia Falls, a member of Spur.

Practice for the girls' basketball tournament has begun. After our miserable showing in the swimming tournament we are bound and determined to win this one. We are also practicing (all who can carry a tune) for the song contest held between halves of the university basketball games. We have finally decided to sing Theta lips, the first part in the usual manner but the last part with that well known "swing."

Initiation will be January 22 for: Vivian Olson, Missoula; Virginia Lathom, Billings; Margaret Love, Miles City; Borghild Rigg, Havre; Bruce Ann Radigan, Shelby; Helen Lundeen, Poplar; Hazel Vial, Pasadena, California, and Mary Williams, Pendleton, Oregon.

The following week, on January 27, we have our annual formal Founders'-day banquet at the Montmartre cafe.

Marian Morse was chosen for the lead in the university musical production. It is to be called Esquire and be a take off on the magazine with Petty's drawings as the main part.

We were sorry this quarter to lose Jean Gilmour and Pat Benson, who failed to return after Christmas.

ALPHA XI—Oregon

A new president comes to Oregon this term; Dr Donald M. Erb of Stanford university, formerly a professor here. Though he has only appeared before the students once, it is safe to say he has met with unanimous approval.

However, it seems a new president isn't enough for us, and our latest acquisition is a new football coach chosen only January 27. He is Tex Oliver of the University of Arizona, and his record shows success all the way through. Now watch us steam ahead! We are glad to welcome also Esther Cheesborough Oliver, of Phi, Coach Oliver's Theta wife.

At the end of rush week, winter term, we pledged Janet Foster, Wenatchee, Washington. She is the daughter of Kathleen Dawson Foster, Alpha Sigma.

Saturday, January 22, the following thirteen girls were initiated: Lois Onthank, Mary Booth, Barbara Washburn, Rosemary Geneste, Nancy Cooper, Jean Groves, Jean Broughton, Geraldine Eastham, Joan Hoke, Barbara Fulton, Pat Wethered, Patricia Gore, and Mary Neal Gore.

Immediately following initiation a Founders'-day banquet was held at the Eugene hotel. Betty Robb, Alpha Lambda alumna and housemother here last year, was toastmistress. It is the custom of Eugene alumnae to present two books on this occasion to the freshman having the highest grades in her class. This year the gift went to Lois Onthank, who also received another honor. Frances Gill, Omega alumna and former resident of Portland passed away recently and her friends asked that an outstanding freshman wear Miss Gill's badge, which was specially made, and is much smaller than the regular Theta badge. The badge will be awarded each year to the freshman with the highest grades. We have named our house library the Frances Gill memorial library in honor of Miss Gill, who was herself a writer.

Jessie Chase Eastham (Mrs Melville) and her husband have recently returned from a 3 months' trip abroad. They visited London, Paris, Vienna, and Athens, and returned home via the Mediterranean.

ALPHA OMICRON—Oklahoma

Jean Vance (daughter of Edna Hannifon Vance, Beta Zeta) and Harriet Mabray, Okmulgee, are new pledges.

For Christmas our pledge class gave the house 75 serving trays, a lace table cloth, and a table mirror. These gifts were used for the first time at our second buffet supper, January 9.

Marjorie Hallum, Mary Parks, and Ruth Potts were graduated at the end of the first semester.

Mary Louise Stone and Nina de Vinna have returned to college. Grace Matheny, Beta Iota, has moved into the house.

Our Founders'-day banquet was held January 30 in the Gothic room of the student union.

Ruby Douglass, Marrian Grace Hardie, and Marian Beck are members of the junior honor group.

Patricia Doyle and Virginia Hudson are doing post-graduate work.

MARIAN BECK

ALPHA PI—North Dakota

In December we gave our annual mothers' Christmas party, and had the grandest surprise. Each guest brought a glass of jelly, jam, or pickles to put under our Christmas tree. We wish every mother could see how rapidly the gifts are disappearing from our store room; then she would know how much they were appreciated.

We closed our first semester social calendar with our annual Winter formal at the house. We all had a good time and hated to hear the clock strike twelve.

We are happy over the recent election of Thelma Nielson as the "typical senior girl." A typical freshman girl and man and a typical senior girl and man were elected. We are also proud of Eleanor Eide who was chosen senior Chorega for the annual Carney song contest. February 22 the classes meet in the auditorium and compete for prizes with three original songs and our Alma Mater. Working on the song committees we have Verone Wagness for the juniors, Alice Forkner for the sophomores, and Eleanor Wold for the freshmen. One of our pledges, Elizabeth Taylor, was pledged to W.A.A. this fall. Martha Low Johnson was pledged to Phi Chi Theta, national commerce society.

We are glad that Margaret Cashel, who had to leave college in the fall because of illness, is to be with us second semester.

ELEANOR THOMPSON

29 January 1938

Married: Jean M. Campbell to Philip Castlen, June 24, 1937. 2846 Piedmont, Verdugo City, Calif.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Ferdinand J. Kloster (Marjorie Graham) a daughter, Sept. 26.—To Mr and Mrs J. H. Arnold (Frances Kelly) a daughter, Martha Ellen, Oct. 21. 1033 E. Washington, Iowa City, Iowa.

New addresses: Ruth Helgersen, Dacotah hotel, Grand Forks, N.D.

ALPHA RHO—South Dakota

Christmas time proved cheery as usual. First we had our alumnae party. Gifts were exchanged with accompanying poems. The alumnae presented the house a more than welcome set of service trays. The Thursday before vacation, the house had its own Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged and Mrs Aldrich, house mother, presented us with a book-case, and Mrs Greene, the cook, gave us a silver water pitcher with K A Θ engraved upon it. The party lasted all night and, tired but happy, the Thetas embarked upon their separate vacations.

Ten Theta pledges were initiated into Apprentice players, a dramatic organization preparatory to the higher honor of Playcrafters.

Theta's fall informal was December 5 and proved a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

Mary Dunlap is our candidate for honorary colonel.

ELEANOR MORRISON

1 February 1938

Married: Velva G. Carlson to Robert I. Howlett, Nov. 12. 319 N. Washington, Junction City, Kans.—Margaret Helen James to George I. Gibbs, June 19, 1937. 754 Oak st. Columbus, Ohio.—Polly Parlman to John L. Perkins, Jan. 3. Elk apts. 1032 2nd av. S. Minneapolis, Minn.

Born: To Mr and Mrs W. W. St. Clair (Marion Damuth) a son, William Frost, June 27, 1937. 221 E. School st. Owatonna, Minn.

New addresses: Lenette Dunlap Kramer (Mrs J. H.) Spearfish, S.D.—Elizabeth Frary Jerme (Mrs Reidar) 1723 Jefferson, Kansas City, Mo.—Gwen Thomas Mead (Mrs A. E.) 326 Plum st. Vermillion, S.D.

ALPHA SIGMA—Washington State

With the close of second semester rushing, Alpha Sigma was happy to welcome the four new pledges whom Squeal Night brought. They were: Beatrice Barrie, Walla Walla; Florence Jane Sargent, St. Marys, Idaho; Cordelia Mae Worley, Rockford; and Eleanor Young, Tacoma.

A St Valentine's dance, given after a quick change from the formal rushing party on February 11, proved to be one of the most successful dances the chapter had given.

Farewells to Margaret Beaumont, Lorna Porter and Janet Swart were mingled with greetings to Maryly LaFollette who returned after a semester's work at the University of Wisconsin. We were also happy to have Dorothy Blair return for graduate work.

Again this year it was hands across the state as Alpha Sigma and Beta Theta held a joint celebration of Founders'-day at Moscow, Idaho.

At the National student assembly of Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. held during the Christmas holidays in Oxford, Ohio, Betty Cooper was elected National co-chairman for the coming year. We are proud that Betty received the honor of this responsible position. Nadine Armstrong was elected to Phi Kappa Phi on her excellent scholastic standing for her first three years. And for the second time Jane Burgunder, a freshman, has a leading rôle in the all-college play. This time the play is Accent on youth.

For the second consecutive time, Washington State holds the first place in the northern division of the Pacific coast basketball tournament. However, to retain this position there are several games yet to be won and so these promise to be just as exciting as the close games of last year. The entire campus has its fingers crossed and will enthusiastically watch the coming games.

The others all-college interest at the present time is skiing. Many bruises result, but it's the thing to do despite the rather painful outcomes. But in a few more weeks we shall be making plans for picnics and spending our spare hours at the golf course and tennis courts. There's something in the air and 'though it's a little early, we dare to hope it's spring.

HELEN WERSEN

12 February 1938

Engaged: Paige Ellis to Neil Davis, K Σ.

Married: Gladys Anderson to George L. Bachelder, Aug. 28, 1937. 845 Bellevue N. Seattle, Wash.

Born: To Mr and Mrs J. Kuykendall (Grace McIntosh) a son, in September.—To Mr and Mrs Harry Rymond (Helen Hazen) a daughter, in November.—To Mr and Mrs John H. Nasmyth (Virginia Anne Parr) a daughter, Patricia Anne, Nov. 4. 119 N. 22nd st. Billings, Mont.

New addresses: Lenore Townsend, 200 Elm dr.

Beverly Hills, Calif.—Evelyn Peterson Melrose (Mrs John W.) Box 212, Pullman, Wash.

June Sanders is taking graduate work in Romance languages at Columbia university.

ALPHA TAU—Cincinnati

Ellanora Needles was given a lead in the latest Mummers play, The masque of kings. She brought glory to both herself and Theta by a brilliant performance. Hats off to our rising young actress! However, we must not forget our friends behind the scenes. Clo O'Neal, as production manager, was largely responsible for the success of the play. Clo was ably assisted by Ruby Japp and Betty Rae Froemeyer.

The Fresh paint tryouts have just taken place and Betty Griffith, Dale Bartlett, Dorothy Wilson, Betty Akin, Phillis Galloway, Virginia Ficks, Muriel Beucus, Betty Jane Menefee, and Betty Rae Froemeyer have all been given parts. Betty Rae Froemeyer will give one of her famed specialty dances.

Ellanora Needles has received a nomination for Junior Prom Queen and we just don't see how she can miss! We're all keeping our fingers crossed.

Martha Stitt has been elected vice-president of the student council. Marion Rule has been elected vice-president of the Women's senate. Betty Hamilton has become news editor of our college paper, The News Record. Virginia Ficks and Dorothy Wilson are also associated with the paper. The year book, The Cincinnati, has its share of Theta writers. Those of us on its staff are Marion Rule, Ann White, Sue Eastman, Ann Struble, Dorothy Wilson, Dorothy Johnson, Virginia Ficks, and Sarah Frances Hezlep.

Cupid has done his work in the chapter as usual. Jean Mercer has resigned the position of a co-ed for that of a haus frau, and Nancy Davis returned from the holidays with an engagement ring.

We are looking forward to our annual Founder's-day banquet which is to be February 7.

NANCY PEED

New addresses: LaVerny Marland Billing (Mrs Wyly) 2300 Macdonough rd. Wilmington, Dela.—

Betty Lou Van Zant Thoman (Mrs William B.) 216 Bundy av. Newcastle, Ind.—Louise Hatfield Stickney (Mrs Brewster) 1527 Spruce st. Philadelphia, Pa.—Esther Sechrist Bostwick (Mrs Alfred) 54th st. Woodside, L.I. N.Y.—Gertrude Kemp Reade (Mrs R.W.B.) 47 Crescent rd. Port Washington, L.I. N.Y.

ALPHA UPSILON—Washburn

Betty Hope, one of the house girls, was away during the month of October with infantile paralysis, but now she is as happy and healthy as any of us, which makes us all thankful. The house girls were quarantined for five days.

December 17, the night before Christmas vacation began, we had our annual Christmas party, a gala affair. A seven foot kite all lighted and greeting everyone a Merry Christmas from a cellophane background served as decoration, and our pledges did themselves proud with original songs for the entertainment.

Barbara King became a member of Nonoso, women's honor society. Mary Louise Alexander, Jean Staley, and Mary Frances Crosby took part in the one-act plays and Lea Stone, Mary Hogeboom, and Diantha Beauchamp had leads in the two major productions. Patsy Strawn, Betty Eldon, and Rowena May were elected to Dance club. Delorus Holman made Splash club and Marion Hughes made Junior Splash club. Anne Wyatt was elected secretary of the junior citizenship council and Mary Hogeboom was elected senior representative of this organization.

December 5 we were happy to initiate Edna Burlin of Eldorado, Marion Hughes of Parsons, Burdette Holm and Diantha Beauchamp, both of Topeka.

Second semester we pledged Phyllis Gray of St John, and Prudence and Jane Armstrong of Topeka. We are glad to welcome them.

We entertained little sisters and mothers with dinners and skits on different meeting nights and our fathers on Valentine's day.

January 28 we had our Founders'-day dinner and the pledges sang.

We have a Mothers' club for the first time this year. They have met three times and Mrs

Carroll was elected president. It promises to be a strong organization and we are glad to have it.

ANNE WYATT

2 February 1938

New addresses: Marie Ritchey, 348 N. Bluff, Wichita, Kans.—Mary Jane Miller Stocking (Mrs H. A.) 4507 Roanoke pkwy, Apt. 1, Kansas City, Mo.—Doris and Jette Lee Luellen, 128 Cooper av. Peoria, Ill.—Marion Price Downer (Mrs A. M.) 4313 E. Kellogg, Wichita, Kans.

ALPHA PHI—Newcomb

Christmas was celebrated in riotous fashion at a party on December 12 at which our alumnae were hostesses. Irene Phaff and Marion Lovell as Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen were the climax of the pledges' performance. Of course, there was food which was "scrumptious."

Our annual Christmas tree for a few needy children was on December 16. It was difficult to decide whether we or our little guests enjoyed the fun the most. A Santa Claus, candy, ice cream and cake and bushels of new toys made this a memorable Theta Christmas for eight children.

Mrs Quillian's last visit effected several improvements in chapter management. Among these is the formation of a president's cabinet. On January 8 the cabinet met with the alumnae Advisory board for luncheon.

The Mardi Gras season is in full swing with Carnival Balls sparkling on the social calendar. Here too, Thetas have shone. Mary Valerie Gaienne was a maid in the Court of Olympians and Lalise Moore and Helen Walker graced the Court of Cynthus. The climax of the Carnival festivities will come March 1 when Mardi Gras proper will invade New Orleans.

Tulane played host January 16-18 to some of the country's well-known educators who attended the inauguration of Tulane's tenth president, Rufus Carrollton Harris, who succeeds the late Dr Dinwiddie. Dr Marion Park, president of Bryn Mawr; Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago; Alfred Hanford, Dean of Harvard college; Alexander Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan; and Governor Richard Leche participated in the inaugural rites.

MARY UTLEY

Married: Adrienne Gottschalk to Lowell Dawson, $\Phi \Delta \Theta$, Dec. 14. Joyce Lacy to Frank O. McGehee, $\Sigma \Lambda \Theta$, Jan. 1. Dorcas Jane Dusenbury to John Culver, Feb. 4.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Cameron Gamble (Yvonne Meyer) a son, Cameron Calvin, Jan. 5.

New addresses: Louise Ricks, 654 Merrick st. Shreveport, La.

ALPHA CHI—Purdue

We are still thinking of the wonderful time we had at our traditional all night party the night before vacation, and the grand entertainment the pledges offered.

In the university beauty contest, held just before vacation, Virginia Hulse was selected one of the four beauties. The day after the contest Ginny was operated on for appendicitis. But she is back with us again, as fine as ever.

Looking into the future we see rush, that everlasting thing. This time it is a week long and very informal. It should not be as difficult as in the fall as we know all the girls and we hope they know us.

Lately we have been having members of the faculty over for dinner, a few every week. We feel that this lets us know them better and in a different way.

MARIANNE CUMMINGS

22 January 1938

Marjorie Kruse is working in the social service department, City hospital, Indianapolis.

ALPHA PSI—Lawrence

Theta won the intersorority volleyball tournament and thus took another step toward winning the athletic plaque for the second year. First place in tennis and second in archery have already been won. Three of the eight girls named to the all-college varsity volleyball team were Thetas; Jean Doerr, Jean Lewis, and Mary White. Those named to class teams were Elizabeth Catlin, Ruth Chapelle, Helen Peters, Marian Humleker, Jean Ross, Barbara Rounds, Margaret Seip, Betty White, and Mary Young.

Jean Lewis, Barbara Rounds, and Mary White have been elected to Numeral club. To become eligible for election a girl must have been named to two varsity teams or four class teams.

Betty Johnson and Janet Weber have been honored by being chosen junior counselors for the second semester. They will live in the freshman dormitory, where they will have jurisdiction over the freshman girls.

Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary music fraternity, has elected Sally Haven as a member for her excellence in piano. She has given several selections in chapel.

The annual Founders'-day banquet was on February 13 this year. Other social activities were the supper given by pledges for the chapter and the afternoon party for pledges of other women's fraternities. They were entertained with games and charades. Popcorn and apples were served.

MARY WHITE

30 January 1938

Married: Martha Farmer to Dr Gordon Chinnock, Nov. 20. Linden Crest, Wilmette, Ill.

New addresses: Lucille Purdy Legrand (Mrs J. C.) 5319 Mandell st. Houston, Tex.—Helen Fox, 130 Madison, Green Bay, Wis.

Camilla Coumbe Kirkpatrick (Mrs John) was elected president of the Wisconsin state chapter of P.E.O. in June, 1937.

ALPHA OMEGA—Pittsburgh

On January 10 we gave a tea-dance for Sigma Alpha Epsilon. On the Saturday following, January 15, we held initiation for Louisa Gabbert and Betty Fedigan (sister of Eleanor).

Our main worries are spring rushing—our big rushing season—and the women's interfraternity sing, February 14 at the Heinz house (the women's club house on campus). The themes are books this year, and our theme is Wake up and live.

Rushing will be March 3-5, with five parties. Though our plans are not complete, we will have an old-fashioned party the evening of Thursday, March 3, for which the house will be turned into a colonial home, and the girls will serve in hoop-skirts and lace; a fashion-show luncheon the next day, where Thetas will model the latest fashions, supplied by a down-town department store; our Theta Follies that night, complete with variety act, intermission and a chorus; a hunt-breakfast on Saturday morning where we will wear riding clothes—but will dispense with horses; and for our final, Saturday night party, a progressive dinner where we will travel from country to country and wind up at the chapter house for coffee and singing.

On February 7 we are giving a kid-party for Zeta Tau Alpha—to be held after meeting. The invitation to them was a celluloid doll-baby in a basket, which we left on their door-step with a note pinned to its blanket. Their answer was overwhelmingly affirmative, so we're looking forward to February 7.

February 19 marks our dance for Kappa Kappa Gamma at the chapter house, and our date for the spring formal, already selected and arranged for, is May 20. Now let another organization try to beat us to that date—or to the Field club!

JEAN BARNES

28 January 1938

BETA GAMMA—Colorado State

On December 15 we gave our Christmas party, entertaining alumnae, mothers, and faculty. Hanging on our huge beautifully decorated Christmas tree were gifts for all. The pledges presented the program, which impressed and inspired everyone. There was serenading and caroling beneath our windows every night, and we did our share, too.

With the new semester starting, we were glad to welcome back Frances Woodside, Margaret Cresswell, and Jeannette Nicholas.

As for the honors this time, Gladys Carlson and Mary Brownell were initiated into Alpha Chi Alpha, journalistic society, and Betty Gay Hammet and Jean DeVoe were initiated into Dramatic club.

Founders'-day will be celebrated by all Colorado chapters and Denver alumnae with dining and dancing at the Brown Palace hotel in Denver on February 18.

We were surprised and delighted when our District president, Mrs Moore, visited us on January 17.

BETA EPSILON—Oregon State

Reviving our old custom of entertaining with a Christmas reception for faculty and their wives, Beta Epsilon was at home December 10 to about 450 guests between the hours of 7:30 and 10 o'clock. A silver and blue Christmas tree accented by vivid poinsettias, cheery holly, red candles and mistletoe were the decorations for the affair. During the evening the chapter members sang Christmas carols.

Formal initiation on January 22 for seven girls was followed by the Founders'-day banquet. The new members are Betty Bain (sister of Barbara) Elspeth Petrie, Sally McLellen, Virginialee Shaver, Bobbe Shinn, Ruth Stearns and Dorothy Willis.

We are happy to announce the pledging of Helen Snyder, Medford, and Harriet Klein-sorge, Silverton.

Enid Clifford was one of ten girls of the campus chosen to model for the Beaver style show. Kathleen Aston, assisted by Maureen Winterbottom, served as fashion coordinator for this campus event.

Our annual mid-winter formal will be held February 12. The decorative motif is to be a winter wonderland.

ROBERTA COOK

28 January 1938

Born: To Mr and Mrs C. H. Murdock (Sylvia Strain) a son, Donald Dekum, Aug. 3, 1937.

New addresses: Helen Ewing Murdock (Mrs Victor T.) Rt. 3, Eugene, Ore.—Virginia Green Wood (Mrs C. E.) King City, Calif.—Elizabeth Fuselman, 414 Riverside dr. Apt. 2A, New York.—Katherine Waite Bain (Mrs W. M.) 320 Wisconsin av. Oak Park, Ill.—Alice Cornwall Kaderly (Mrs Wallace) 1801 N. Danville, Arlington, Va.

BETA ZETA—Oklahoma State

Most important pre-vacation activity was the Christmas party given for the children of our alumnae—with a Christmas tree, buffet supper, favors, and Santa Claus. Our pledges presented the house with a set of dinner chimes, and our chaperon, Mrs F. A. Griffith, gave us eight sets of crystal salt and pepper shakers.

At the beginning of the new semester there were many changes in the chapter. Patricia Harrison, our president, graduated. Beverly Martin left college and is now in Ponca City, while Wanda Worrell left to attend Tonkawa Junior college.

Wednesday afternoon, January 26, forty of us chartered a bus and went to Tulsa to attend the Founders'-day banquet given by Tulsa alumnae at the Junior League tea room. We returned the same night after a very enjoyable evening. The same evening Sara Stanley, from Arkansas City, Kansas, became a Theta pledge.

February 2, we are giving a formal dinner and shower for Helen Ledbetter Williams, who was married to Ralph Williams in November and is now living here in Stillwater, and also for Patricia Harrison, who will marry Jerrell Atkinson February 11. She will live in Tulsa after her marriage.

We are planning a St Patrick's day dansant for Saturday afternoon, March 19.

CAROLINE RICHARDSON

30 January 1938

Married: Alice Tabor to Eben Warner, K A, Oct. 30. Lebanon, Tenn.

New addresses: Polly Cowan Hanlon (Mrs W. J.) 15015 Grandville rd. Detroit, Mich.—Hazel Turnage Wofford (Mrs Ben) 1006 1st av. N. Northwood, Iowa.—Douglas Smith, c/o Mrs Juanita Smith, State Capitol, Oklahoma City, Okla.—Doris Williamson Lenertz (Mrs J. A. jr.) Stanley st. Stillwater, Okla.

BETA ETA—Pennsylvania

Our nine pledges are; Jean Thomas (sister of Sue, Alpha Beta) Ruth Francksen (sister of Jean) Francoise Jones, Bernice Yount, Ann Bounds (transfer from the University of Richmond) Jean Laurie (whose father, Dr. Frank Laurie, is a member of the English department) Cynthia Kirk, Harriet Snyder and Lucille Worthington.

Founders'-day luncheon gave us our first real opportunity to present the pledges. Accompanying this privilege was that of having our District president, Virginia Davis Boyce, as the speaker. Since "Ginny" spent two days prior to that of the luncheon with us, ironing out our problems and advising us in our ardent desire to enlarge the house, we all have experienced the genuine pleasure of knowing her personally.

At our first 1938 meeting Betty Slesman, one of Penn's representatives to the National assembly of student Christian endeavor, voiced the thrill of her experience in meeting many Thetas and hearing about the new house at Cornell.

Some of us could speak of having seen Jean Magill, who transferred to Antioch this year. She seems to be enjoying even her field work, teaching "backward" children.

We are proud to announce that in December Florence Froborg, who plans to be graduated in February, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

The pledges gave an attractive tea for other pledges on campus just before Christmas, and on January 22 the chapter held open house for some of the men's fraternities. From now on we plan to be "at home" to alumnae and friends of Theta the first and third Thursday of each month.

MARY ELLEN MERCER

26 January 1938

Dorothy P. Schoell is executive secretary of the Philadelphia Housing authority. Address, The Wellington, 19th & Walnut.

BETA THETA—Idaho

This week ends a semester filled with school and house activities. The Sunday before Christmas vacation we had our annual Christmas party. The sophomores decorated the dinning room in red and white and served the dinner. The pledges presented Why the chimes rang, with effective music and elaborate stage settings. Then we had a gift exchange and read our poems. The evening ended with everyone singing Christmas carols before the fire. We are grateful to Mrs Casey, our housemother, for a ping pong set, and to the Moscow alumnae club for after-dinner coffee spoons. With money given us by the Moscow Mothers' club, we are turning our trunk room in the basement into a recreation room.

In the oratorio, Messiah, given before Christmas, Helen Clough, Louise Paulsen, and Betty Torgenson sang the leads while 15 other Thetas were in the chorus.

Melissa Stone and Helen Clough were pledged to Kappa Delta Pi, national educational society.

To celebrate the ending of finals, we gave our annual gypsy dance on January 29. The room was decorated with tambourines, trees, and cauldrons, depicting a forest scene.

MARY E. HARVEY

27 January 1938

Married: LaRene Richards to John L. Torgesen, June 15, 1937. 540 W. 123rd, Apt. B 64, New York, N.Y.—Ruth Rowell to Don L. Modie, B Θ II, Dec. 26. 812 6th av. Lewiston, Ida.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Earl Menner (Catherine Hanson) a daughter, Mary Kay, in October.

New addresses: Mary Heist Applegate (Mrs D. W.) 500 Franklin, Wellman apts. #19, Boise, Ida.—Jane Cramer Pierce (Mrs R. W.) R.F.D. 2, Kimball, Idaho.—Wilma Hudson John (Mrs Max) 1435 Alvarado terr. Apt. 208, Los Angeles Calif.—Helen Kerr Gleason (Mrs Carl R.) 906 E. John st. Seattle, Wash.

BETA IOTA—Colorado

In addition to the to-be-expected excitement created by the coming vacation and our trip to Dallas to the Cotton Bowl game on New Year's day, the marriage of two alumnae and one pledge did its bit to make the last few weeks of fall quarter very eventful.

The two social events of prominence in the chapter house last quarter were our formal and the Christmas party. With the use of cotton, artificial snow, pine boughs, and Christmas trees, the chapter house was readily transformed into an outdoor festival place for the formal on December 3. The one tall, decorated tree, which remained after the other decorations were taken down, gave atmosphere to the Christmas party on December 11. Dorothy Jean Claus made an effective Santa. Mrs Shoemaker, our house mother, presented us with some tablespoons in our silver pattern.

The following girls were initiated on January 16: Dorothy Jean Claus, Jean Gillet, Margaret Beard, Verlaine Hinley, Betty Stabler, Emily Jane Fritch, Gretchen Etter, Marion Boyle, and Eva Moore.

Formal pledging was held January 22 for Virginia Essig (sister of Marlyn, Alpha Mu) Quincy, Illinois; and Margaret Smith, Dallas, Texas.

Activities and scholastic achievement have not been slighted. Rosemary Orsborn was elected treasurer of the senior class. Martha Jane Lepper was pledged to Delta Phi Delta, national art society. Elizabeth Johnson, Marion Armstrong, Peg Johnson were pledged to Beta Sigma, business group. Along athletic lines, Theta placed second in the volleyball tournament last quarter; Phyllis Gardiner was made a member of Porpoise, the swimming club; and Ruth Macmillan and Virginia Brewer were bid to W.A.A.

PEG JOHNSON

23 January 1938

Married: Jean Biggs to Thomas Young, Jan. 1. 1107 Elizabeth, Denver, Colo.—Elizabeth Voorhees to Walter E. Kirkendall, Dec. 16.—Opal Rogers to Walter Secor, June 13, 1937. Shandin Hills c/o Ernest Oehl, San Bernardino, Calif.

Born: To Mr and Mrs William C. Warren (Mary Bess Ransberger) a daughter, Marilyn, Nov. 16.

New addresses: Verna Nellis Van Zandt (Mrs H. F.) 1205 Huntington dr. Nichols Hills, Oklahoma City, Okla. (correction)—Roberta Hall White (Mrs John P.) 953 15th st. Boulder, Colo.—Helen Brugman, 2030 N.E. Knott, Portland, Ore.—Thelma Weldon Edwards (Mrs Lyman) 1905 S. Carrollton, New Orleans, La.—Isabel Young Masten (Mrs A. R.) 1424 E. 10th av. Denver, Colo.—Emily Johnston Howard (Mrs J. G.) 250 Cliffside dr. Columbus, Ohio.—Dorothy Kibby Fancher (Mrs R. M.) 436 W. 9th, Traverse City, Mich.—Margaret Green Parsons (Mrs A. D.) 4118 Colorado av. Brookside, St. Louis Park, Minn.—Alice Plested, 4 E. 94th st. New York, N.Y.

BETA KAPPA—Drake

Beta Kappa started vacation with the true Christmas spirit, by entertaining four small children who otherwise would have had no Christmas. They certainly relished the turkey and cranberry sauce, though when it came time for the Christmas story by Mary Jane Marxer they were willing to stop feasting and listen. Ada Beth Peaker and Ruth Meyer sang for them, and then came the opening of the interesting looking packages under the Christmas tree. One little boy would put his packages under the chair beside him and open them when no one was looking. Loaded with toys, warm clothes, and cheery smiles they left the Theta house leaving behind many pleasant memories.

We were happy to entertain our District president, Mrs Grimm, and were inspired by her enthusiasm for Theta. At the Panhellenic banquet January 12 Kappa Alpha Theta was presented with the scholarship cup. We are working hard to win it again this year.

New pledges are Kathleen McCoun, Bedford, and Arline Harris, Nevada.

Kathleen McCoun sang the contralto part in the Messiah. Lucille Nelson and Margaret Stone are members of Theta Sigma Phi. Ada Beth Peaker went on tour with the boys' quartet. We are proud of Mary Jane Marxer, Duchess for the annual Fine arts ball February 4. This is the biggest social affair during this semester and every one attends in costume. Mary Jane was chosen from a group representing all social and professional women's groups. She will be escorted by a Duke, representative of the fraternities.

Dorene Capps, Martha Winterhoff, and Mary Jane Marxer have part in Daughters of Atreus, the all-university production for February 16-18.

February 5 rushees will be entertained at a Panhellenic tea. We have been having weekly teas for all fraternity girls to enable us to get better acquainted with other groups and to create a closer feeling of friendly competition. February 5 we will celebrate Founders'-day with a banquet at Younker's tea room.

LOIS BUMGARDNER

1 February 1938

Married: Alice Erickson to J. A. Garlock, June 12, 1937. Box 334, Ft. Dodge, Iowa.

New addresses: Marion E. Bolter, 4900 Blackstone av. Chicago, Ill.—Frances Morehouse Glomset (Mrs) 6146 Kenwood av. Apt. 304, Chicago, Ill.

BETA LAMBDA—William and Mary

Beta Lambda is happy to announce the initiation of Mary Kay Ewing (sister of Margaret Ewing Walker, Beta Beta) of Olean, New York, on December 7.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained us at a theatre party on December 10. It has become a custom at William and Mary for Kappa and Theta to exchange parties and we look forward to them each year. We entertained the Kappas and their dates at a buffet supper before the Mortar board coed dance on January 14.

The Athletic association has presented us with a sterling silver trophy as a reward for winning the intersorority athletic championship in 1937. We have a fair start on intramurals this year. We tied for first place in the swimming meet in December when Ann Layton starred, winning first place in diving and backstroke and third in the relay.

Two Christmas parties stand out particularly in our memories, the party which the pledges gave for the chapter and the elaborate one which President Bryan gives each year the night before Christmas vacation begins. Each organization on the campus presents a skit at the president's party and this year the Theta skit won third prize.

Jane Upchurch has the second lead in The Mikado, to be given in March. Barbara Bundy and Carol McCoy are working on sets, and Roberta Rosendale is on the costume committee, which does all designing and making of costumes. Gwen Evans, Elaine Wooddy, Barbara Bundy, and Roberta Rosendale have joined the International Relations club.

JEAN CLARAHAN

28 January 1938

Married: Frances Elizabeth White to Charles A. Whitchurch, Sept. 23. 114 E. Ocean blvd. Long Beach, Calif.—Jane Ellwood St. Clair to L. E. Ward, jr. June 12, 1937. 20 Comstock st. New Brunswick, N.J.—Dorothy Littlepage to Gibson Milton Allen, Jan. 1. 215 Walnut lane, Germantown, Pa.—Eleanor Walker to Otis Douglas. Williamsburg, Va.

Born: To Mr and Mrs John Dice (Anne Spratley) a son, John.

New addresses: Elizabeth Scott Hamlin (Mrs P. G.) Cambridge, Md.—Lois Evans, 37 S.W. 14th st. Miami, Fla.—Margaret Clark Kessler (Mrs R. H.) c/o Lt. R. H. Kessler, C.A.C. Ft. Mills, Corregidor, P.I.—Viola Barrett Greenland (Mrs M. R.) 216 Wolfe st. Alexandria, Va.—Janie Anderson Bane (Mrs W. H.) Marion, Va.—Louise Love Jones (Mrs D. C.) R.F.D. 2, Kenbridge, Va.

Sally Pevear is secretary to Stone and Jones Law firm, Brighton, Mass.

BETA MU—Nevada

We were delighted to pledge June Adams of Reno. Initiation services took place January 29 for 17 girls: Mary Arentz, Annie Laurie Ballom, Caroline Best, Helen Cameron, Thelma Crosby, Merian Ducker, Kathryn Devlin, Georgia Ereno, Bette Fodrin, Marjory Gusewelle, Betty Hardy, Lucille Hewes, Inabelle Jarvis, Shirley Marshall, Kathleen Starratt, Aileen Smith, and Covey Wills. After initiation, the Founders'-day banquet was held at the El Cortez hotel. Blanche Wyckoff, of the alumnae, acted as toastmistress. The jeweled badge awarded by alumnae to the most outstanding initiate was this year presented to Marjory Gusewelle.

We are proud to announce that Elizabeth Osborn has been elected honorary major of the Military Ball. She was chosen by members of Scabbard and Blade from a group of seven girls. She will present the newly initiated members of Scabbard and Blade with their official insignia at the Military Ball, and will head all the formal functions of the society this semester.

Jean Chism was elected to the women's upperclass committee. Kathleen Starratt was elected treasurer of the Ski club. Jean Smith, Y.W.C.A. president, Eva Adams, and Mrs Mae Simas, faculty members, attended the Y.W.C.A. conference held at Asilomar near Monterey, California.

We gave an informal dance at the chapter house this month, and are continuing with our dessert hours.

ALDENE BRANCH

31 January 1938

Engaged: Berry McAnally to Oscar Fretag.

Married: Doris Eileen Bath to J. Don Layson, Σ N, Dec. 11, 708 University av. Reno, Nev.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Edmund A. Muth (Margaret Fuller) a daughter, Margaret Ann, Dec. 28.

New addresses: Donna Dove Anderson (Mrs Ted) 1241 Division St. Napa, Calif.

BETA NU—Florida State

The week before vacation we had our annual Christmas party. Some of the girls walked for miles in the woods looking for a Christmas tree, and upon finding the desired kind, they discovered they had forgotten an ax to cut the tree down. Not discouraged, they twisted the tree down with their hands and bore it triumphantly back to the house. However, they looked a little the worse for wear in the way of scratches and torn clothes.

At the party, we drew names and exchanged ten cent gifts with cute little verses attached. The pledges gave the house a lovely clock and a beautiful blue and ivory cigarette stand. The alumnae gave us a gorgeous set of china with the Theta seal on it. Mother Mac gave us a dozen silver teaspoons, so we were quite elated with it all. After Santa Claus had distributed the presents, we ate coffee and doughnuts and had a song fest.

At the end of the semester, Kay Skehan, Iota, who has been with us all this year, returned to her home in Richmond, Virginia. We all hated to see her go and the one thing that sustains us is the fact that we hope to see her at convention this summer. The Wednesday before she left we gave her a surprise party and presented her with a book of salt water poetry. We salute a grand girl.

Because of semester exams, we are having our Founders'-day banquet February 2, instead of January 28, at the Floridan hotel.

Lillian Burford was married to Frank Baker, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, January 21, in a lovely ceremony at the house.

Since Christmas vacation we have lost a few girls. Nancy Knotts had to leave school at semesters for an operation. Ruth Mesker, Christine Bryan, and Betty Estes have gone home for the rest of the year. We hope to see them all back at the beginning of next year.

BETTY SPICER

1 February 1938

Married: Anne Randolph Chichester to Vernon C. Eason, jr. Nov. 30. 1128 N.W. 6th st. Miami, Fla.—Lillian Burford to Frank Baker, Σ A Ε, Jan. 21.

New addresses: Georgia Archer Solliday (Mrs M. F.) Carmi, Ill.—Angela Anderson Criswell (Mrs Benjamin N.) 155 S. Bull st. Columbia, S.C.

BETA XI—California at Los Angeles

Beta Xi's Christmas party was a huge success, with presents for everyone. The main reason we could enjoy our presents so much was that we had supplied a poor family with canned goods and staples for several weeks. We had also given to a fund which is used to supply poor children with milk.

On December 27, during the holidays, our Mothers' club gave us an open house. Alumnae as well as college members of Omicron and Phi were invited. Christmas decorations, buffet supper, and an excellent orchestra provided the background for a most enjoyable evening.

Emily Sedgwick, our president, surprised us all by announcing her engagement to Jim Stone.

Founders'-day was celebrated on January 22 with a luncheon at the Huntington hotel in Pasadena. Helen Goodall Van Dyke, mother of Beta Xi's Susan, made a charming toastmistress. Audrey Smith, a Beta Xi alumna and student of the Henry Duffy Dramatic school, talked on personality. The climax was the inspirational talk by Irene Taylor Heineman, mother of Ruth Heineman McPhail, Beta Xi alumna.

Jane Cowles was pledged Tic Toc, junior-senior social organization.

We are sorry to lose Minta Bonner, our only graduating senior. January 30 we had a party to wish Minta best of success, and also to celebrate the nearing of the end of finals.

BETTY GLASS

30 January 1938

New addresses: Marjorie Townsend Conley (Mrs L. H.) 122 E. San Antonio dr. Long Beach, Calif.—Alice Kelly Rayner (Mrs M. D.) 35 E. Las Flores dr. Altadena, Calif.—Eileen Converse Meeks (Mrs Curtis) 1524 Marion dr. Glendale, Calif.

BETA OMICRON—Iowa

Mid-year has found us with three outstanding Thetas leaving, Janet Wood, Margie Fastenow and Jean Thompson, who have graduated. Betty Miller, Beta Kappa, has returned to her home in Des Moines. Frances Roper is with us again for the second semester.

The girls are still taking active interest in sports. To date we are tied for first in the all-university basketball tournament.

Kathryn Wood has been appointed as publicity assistant on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet.

Due to exam week being the time of Founders'-day we are celebrating with a dinner February 8. Pearl Travis and Dorothy Pownall are to be our speakers.

February 19 we are entertaining with a bum party at the chapter house.

RACHAEL MATTHEWS

4 February 1938

Engaged: Margie Fastenow to Robert Tumler.—Margie Alberti to Kenneth Lemon, Φ B II.

Married: D. Irene Daniel to Clarence R. Cosson, Jan. 1. 650 16th st. Apt. 307, Des Moines, Iowa.

Born: To Mr and Mrs E. L. Harris (Barbara Kittredge) a son, Everett Lincoln, jr. Dec. 19.—To Mr and Mrs Robert Stewart (Marjorie Bemis) a daughter.

New addresses: Ruth Hendricks Hess (Mrs Russell) 1015 Oakland rd. N.E. Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

BETA PI—Michigan State

We have four new girls living in the house this term: Beverly Bendall, Carmen Mains, Judy Corrigan, and Vivian Knepp. Vivian has returned to college after being out since last June. Frances Marsh is not back, as she is to be married early in the spring, and Nancy Farley is spending winter term in Merrill Palmer school in Detroit.

Our winter term formal January 15 was the occasion for the return of several of last year's seniors to add to the gaiety and fun of the week-end. Nan Gallery, Lucile Powrie, Katy Wallace Hand, Johanna Sandham, Gerry Paul, and Jane Shaw were all back. An unusual bit of entertainment was presented between courses by our Theta trio, composed of Rosemarie Jackson, Marion Hasselbring, and Ruth Taylor. They have been a delight to the house all year, and have become quite famous on campus by singing over the air from the college broadcasting station and placing fourth in the annual college amateur show.

The seniors in the house gave a surprise party for the underclassmen the night of January 26. For once it was really a surprise, and a cause for much hilarity and nonsense.

A dramatic presentation of the founding of Kappa Alpha Theta was the highlight of our Founders'-day banquet and program. Costumes and hairdresses of the four girls were characteristic, and the play seemed to give us a better understanding of our founders.

Initiation for 13 girls will be February 5. The new initiates will be Carmen Mains, Helen Stauffer, Barbara Winston, Harriet Beecher, Helen Cawood, Betty Vyn, Harriet Slayton, Alice Godfrey, Muriel Spittle, Janet Hotchin, Jean Widick, Miriam Nickle, and Betty Jane Mills.

We are eagerly anticipating the first visit of our new District president, Mrs Williams, February 6. A tea will be given in her honor during her visit.

Evelyn Siebert is the most recent of our honor students. She has just been elected to Sigma Alpha Beta, local bacteriology society.

Madeline Owen and Marjorie Erb, both of Detroit, were pledged January 11.

MARIAN RICHARDSON

29 January 1938

Engaged: Sarah May Shaw, daughter of President and Mrs R. S. Shaw, to John A. Hannah, secretary of Michigan State college and State board of agriculture.—Mary VanHalteren to Daniel Fortman, Δ T and Φ B K (Colgate).

Married: Evelyn Mae Robinson to Harold D. Oliver, Dec. 30. Michigan Center, Mich.—Amy-Jean Veneklasen to David John Vail, Oct. 2. 1670 Peck, Muskegon, Mich.—Mary Ellen Grover to Howard R. Bissland, June 15, 1937. 307 E. Farriss av. High Point, N.C.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Roy Briggs (Pauline Sandham) a son, John Sandham, Oct. 20.—To Mr and Mrs Campbell B. Chase (Carolyn Ayers) a daughter, Patricia Ayers, Nov. 29. Parker Inn, Albion, Mich.

New addresses: Dorothy Jane Balyeat Hartzell (Mrs H. W.) 6201 Frederick rd. Catonsville, Md.—Deloris Sandham Green (Mrs Raymond) Bad Axe, Mich.—Hazel Schilling, 1103 Market st. Sunbury, Pa.—Dorothy Hanigan Holahan (Mrs E J.) 729 Somerset pl. N.W. Washington, D.C.—Evelyn Hardy Lawford (Mrs H. L.) 502 Beech, Bell Tel. co. Flint, Mich.—Lea Jensen Foster

(Mrs R. A.) 220 Milford, East Lansing, Mich.—Ruth Graham, The Whittier, Burns dr. Detroit, Mich.

BETA RHO—Duke

December 10 was a gala occasion, the annual pledge dance. The "Ark" was attractively decorated in modernistic style, black and gold being prominently used. Yellow button chrysanthemums in black vases were on pedestals at intervals about the room. The pledges entered one by one and were announced to the strains of Theta lips. Carrying arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums tied with the colors, they formed the figure of the kite.

Mary Brent Holland, president of W.S.G.A. was Duke's representative at the W.S.G.A. convention at Albuquerque, New Mexico, during the Christmas holidays.

Carolyn Breedlove has been selected to edit the Handbook for 1938-39. We are proud of her. We are proud, too, of the Newlin twins, Charlotte and Lorraine, who were voted among the twenty most beautiful girls in college. Cecil B. DeMille made the final selection. We congratulate Beauty Queen Margaret Bonnell, a pledge of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Beta Rho is delighted with the new radio and victrola combination recently purchased for the chapter room in Panhellenic House.

In December we had a coffee for Mary Louise Dowling, Alpha Omega, who is now at Duke in the Gymnasium department. January 28 there was a coffee for Mary Elizabeth Carter and Patty Clark. Congratulations to Mary Elizabeth, who graduated at the end of first semester! We will miss both these girls.

LOULA SOUTHGATE

1 February 1938

Engaged: Eleanor Barrett to Giles Montgomery, Washington, D.C.—Sally Robertson to Lyman Russell, White Plains, N.Y.

Married: Martha Vance to Herbert W. Hecht, Nov. 12. 6308 N. Artesian av. Chicago, Ill.

New addresses: Rebecca Kirkpatrick Sprinkle (Mrs W. Van Eaton) Durham, N.C.

BETA SIGMA—Southern Methodist

Louise Corrigan, rush captain, has the difficult job of planning parties and organizing rush week which begins February 5, the day that final examinations end. The chapter is busily engaged in writing rush letters and getting recommendations for prospective rushees.

We shall miss the guiding hand of Mary Boren, pledge trainer and former president of the chapter, who was married on January 15, and has moved from Dallas to Wichita Falls. The alumnae advisory board honored Mary and our pledges with a lovely tea at the home of Mrs J. W. Bartholow. Mary has been a splendid worker for Beta Sigma and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Because of illness, Cornelia Merriman was forced to withdraw from school, but will be back with us for the second semester. Kitty Morley, we regret to say, is leaving us by graduating this mid-term. She has acted as recording secretary during the fall semester, and Christine Burton has been elected to take this position in her place.

JERRY HUFFINGTON

29 January 1938

Married: Mary Boren to C. D. Shamburger, Jan. 15. Clark apts. 1820 11th st. Wichita Falls, Tex.

Born: To Mr and Mrs William Lokey (Jacquelyn Anderson) a son, Nov. 29.

BETA TAU—Denison

Immediately after vacation—just in time to catch some rapidly falling spirits—Christmas formals held the spot light. Our dance was a huge success, and we were privileged to have "Dot" Williams, president of District III, as one of our chaperons.

We were very proud to have Mrs George Banta, former Grand president, as our guest speaker for the Founders'-day banquet held at the Granville Inn on January 20. Every Beta Tau Theta had been anticipating this visit for a long time, and all were happy at the honor of listening to such a delightful speaker. Entertainment at the banquet also included a clever little skit vividly portraying the original founding of Kappa Alpha Theta. This was well presented by Betty Shoemaker, Lorenze Lind, Ruth Hartman, and Betty Clements.

We are proud that Helen Jones was initiated into Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish society.

Our scholarship chairman, Helen Clements, has devised a system of friendly competition whereby we hope to raise our scholarship. The entire group of actives and pledges is fairly divided into two groups, one leader being Mariana Mitchell and the other Dotty Lee Sullivan. The team making the least number of scholarship points at the nine weeks period must treat the winning team to a party—and a fancy party it will be!

Our freshmen are working industriously on the intersorority debate under the guiding hand of Libby Way. We hope that they will successfully win in that competition. Right now the pledges are also anticipating their formal pledge dinner and dance to be given sometime in February.

CAROLYN WOLF

25 January 1938

Ruth Wilkinson Munro (Mrs J. L.) has returned with her family from a year's trip around the world.

BETA UPSILON—British Columbia

Beta Upsilon looked after three families at Christmas time. We filled a hamper for each one and then gave a party to the children at the home of Margaret Lighthouse. The children played games and were given presents. Although some were a bit shy at first, they soon got over that and joined in the fun with the rest of them.

Our Founders'-day banquet was held in the Georgia hotel January 26. The theme centered around an imaginary Theta houseboat called, Gee Whiz. There seemed, however, to be a universal weakness in the enunciation of the speakers, for every one slipped at least once and called it Gin Fizz. The initiates put on a clever skit entitled The cavalier and the lady, or The roundhead and the lady. The costumes were simple, but effective; for example, the lady's consisted of a curl. The audience was assisted in identifying the characters by the placards which bore their names. They sang a song composed of titles from modern dance tunes, and also a Theta song which they had composed themselves.

We are all proud of Margaret Lighthouse, who was nominated for Junior Prom Queen. Also honoured, though in a different connection, was Lilian Boyd, who was chosen as the only girl on a committee to confer with the Premier about an increase in the government grant to the university. The committee took a petition signed by the students in protest against a rise in fees which the board of governors had proposed in order to limit the registration, and thereby solve the problem of overcrowding. The result of the conference will not be known for some time yet.

JOANNE BROWN

28 January 1938

BETA PHI—Penn State

All communication is closed for two weeks between the fraternities and the girls being rushed but already plans are under way for some marvelous parties following exam week.

Town alumnæ and members have freely offered their homes for the small informal parties which we consider our best. Panhellenic has vetoed our having freshmen stay overnight. Formerly we felt that this was the best way to become acquainted with a girl but we have found that these small gatherings are charming.

Our basketball team looks promising and although final games are not until March we are practicing hard. The last two years have seen us nosed out by Kappa in the final meet. Maddy Purnell has been elected captain of the junior class basketball team.

Jean Taylor, State College, has been pledged.

We wore our yellow and black ribbons on January 27 in honor of Founders'-day, and celebrated on January 23 according to our annual custom.

Barbara Lewis was elected to Pi Gamma Mu, social science group. Jane Eames is playing a rôle in Idiot's delight, January production of the Penn State Players. Eleanor Saunders is painting scenery for the show and is manager of the women's rifle team. Peggy Scheaffer was an honorary member of the Soph Hop committee. Henrietta Nichols is one of two senior girls chosen from the home economics school to attend Merrill-Palmer institute in Detroit next semester. Peggy Jones is a member of the business staff of Co-Edits, bi-monthly paper for girls.

Panhellenic ball was held January 14. Each women's fraternity displayed posters bearing the fraternity letters in a color scheme of black and gold.

HERMIONE HUNT

31 January 1938

New addresses: Grace Baer Holderman (Mrs K. L.) 1924 N. Argyle av. Hollywood, Calif.—Dorothy Cummings Griner (Mrs Arthur J.) 1150 E. 3rd st. Brooklyn, N.Y.—Deborah Harvey Lebo (Mrs Arland A.) 134 E. Evergreen st. West Grove, Pa.

BETA CHI—Alberta

Initiation on January 23 has added 9 girls to our ranks, and we are now 21. Erma Ellert, Gertrude Gattenmeyer, Enid Newland, Mary Trusdale, Norma Smith, Margaret Harris, Lois Long, Lelia Scott, and Frances Van Kleeck, are wearing the new kites. After the ceremony we entertained at the house the initiates and Betty Jacobs, Banff, whom we pledged January 24.

The Founders'-day banquet was on January 27 in the Jasper room of the Macdonald hotel; a happy Theta reunion. Hazel Sutherland and Doreen Kavanagh wrote the comical skits which alumnae and college members contributed to the program. We were glad to welcome back Kathleen Beach to the Theta house and to have her with us for Theta's most important day of the year.

We are looking forward to our formal party, last large function of this term, which is on February 25 at the Macdonald. We shall be happy to welcome the alumnae who are coming to Edmonton for the occasion.

MARION WILLIAMS

30 January 1938

Married: Nancy French to Robert E. Davies, Berwyn, Alta.

New addresses: Molly Buchanan Slater (Mrs T. H.) Trail, B.C. Canada.

BETA PSI—McGill

On the afternoon of December 11, Beta Psi initiated 18 at the home of Agnes Tennant, and in the evening the Themis club was the scene of initiation banquet. We were particularly happy to have Mrs French with us on this occasion. She stayed over the weekend, during which we enjoyed some pleasant and helpful chats around the fireside.

On December 18 we entertained four professors at tea. Our Christmas meeting took the form of a party. The sumptuous turkey dinner, followed by the delightful dismantling of a gift-laden Christmas tree—with Eleanor Mackenzie acting as the able Santa Claus—added to the gay festivities. Each of us received a mysterious package accompanied by a limerick, and the house was showered with many necessities including a gate-leg table from the association, a lamp, silver ware, records, etc. Several Thetas spent the Christmas vacation up north at the ski house, but a cloud was cast over the holiday when Mickey Crabtree injured her back. During this time Audrey Martin attended the National conference of Canadian university students at Winnipeg, Manitoba, as Theta's representative in the McGill delegation.

McGill is proud of its new principal, Dr Lewis Douglas, whose installation took place on January 7, and whose genial personality and adaptability are winning him friends wherever he turns. Molly Wootan is at present the holder of a fellowship which is enabling her to continue with post-graduate work at Oberlin college. She is doing research in phonetics, a branch of psychology.

Spring term is off to a good start with the Panhellenic banquet, where Theta took part in the presentation of skits, and a Founders'-day tea, at which alumnae played hostess to the chapter.

AUDREY MARTIN

Married: Rose Larivière Stewart to Josiah O. Low, Jan. 1. 5525 Kimbark av. Chicago, Ill.

BETA OMEGA—Colorado College

After Christmas vacation came our annual subscription dance at the Broadmoor hotel; a grand success. We had an excellent orchestra, and there was the added attraction of bridge for all who wished to play—which was quite a number, as contract has taken possession of the campus. Why, we can't even find a place to drink a coke in solitude, since every table in our favorite haunts seems to be taken by bridge fanatics.

We have been having a grand time doing everything from skating and skiing, to tennis and swimming. You see, we have peculiar weather out here in Colorado; it just can't make up its mind if it should be spring or winter. Speaking of skating, the Broadmoor hotel has just opened a super-super Ice Palace. The rink is steam-heated and the ice smoother than glass. Thetas are among those who have formed skating parties. Some of us are quite talented as far as ice skating is concerned, and then again some aren't; a few have acquired nick-names such as "Sweeper," but then it's all in fun!

Founders'-day will be celebrated in the near future with a banquet and dance at the Brown Palace hotel in Denver. At this time we will again renew friendships with Beta Gamma and Beta Iota.

GAMMA GAMMA—Rollins

Gamma Gamma is happy to announce the initiation of Jane Russell, Betty Brock, Sara Tyler, and Virginia Morgan on January 27. Following the initiation Sarah Smith, Laura Jane Ladd, Fay Bigelow, Carl Good and Kay Burgher took part in the Founders'-day service, after which we enjoyed a buffet supper in our lodge. The new initiates entertained us with their pledge songs, which were excellent.

Anna Jeanne Pendexter, Chicago, and Jeanette Lichtenstein, St Louis, returned for the Theta dance given at Dubs dread Country club on January 29. Theta dances are always successful, but for us this one surpassed all others.

Betsy Skinner who was not with us in the fall, returned after Christmas.

Victoria Morgan has a part in the student production, High Tor, which is to be given February 17.

The Theta team won the intramural basketball tournament this fall. Thetas who were chosen for the basketball varsity are Laura Jane Ladd, Mary Acher, Priscilla Smith, Marcia Stoddard, and Anne Whyte.

Betty Myers won the fall golf tournament.

FAY CHRISTY BIGELOW

29 January 1938

Born: To Mr and Mrs Albert H. Iverson (Mary Katharine Huffman) a son, Yale Huffman, Dec. 14. 112 S. 3rd st. Aberdeen, S.D.

GAMMA DELTA—Georgia

This year we're going to celebrate Founders'-day enthusiastically, because last year at this time we were only prospective Thetas, and now we aren't even the baby chapter any longer. The alumnæ club from Atlanta is coming over for the banquet, and with initiation for 8 on the same day we will have ample reason for the biggest celebration ever.

Marion Ehrhardt and Joanna Stegeman deserve credit for having carried Theta's kite into the semi-finals of the intramural debating tournament. We hope they'll win the tournament, but that remains to be seen. This month we are entering the basketball and swimming tournaments also.

Last Sunday morning we had a waffle breakfast. It was more fun than any rush party we've had yet.

At Christmas we had a tree and party for eight little boys and girls. They came out to the house and we gave our gifts to them instead of to each other.

Maybe we don't go quite as high in percentage of members back as Beta Zeta and Gamma Gamma, but we have every member back but one and are expecting her back next quarter.

This quarter we are not going to have the pledges come to the house to study, but instead will ask them to turn in a weekly plan or outline of what work they have done. Any other ideas would be much appreciated.

GAMMA EPSILON—Western Ontario

The stress and strain of January exams is ancient history now and according to the marks it would seem that once more Fate has smiled, or rather grinned on Gamma Epsilon. Just to give you a rough idea, Theta rated third in her standings, being preceded only by two men's fraternities.

At the conclusion of exams we had to part with two of our nicest new initiates, Lois Croft and Frances Powell, who entered Victoria Hospital to begin two and a half years of training as part of their B.Sc. course. At the Christmas party they were presented with colonial bouquets, liberally bedecked with black and gold. By the way, this bouquet-tossing has all the earmarks of becoming Gamma Epsilon's first and finest tradition.

On Founders'-day we caused quite a stir at the university with our black and gold ribbons tucked neatly beneath our badges. The timid souls just looked and wondered; the bolder of the species, unable to curb their curiosity any longer, asked us what it was all about. January 31 we will celebrate Founders'-day for the first time with a supper meeting at which every Theta for miles around will be present.

Theta officially opens Western's social swirl for this semester with a formal dance at the London Hunt and Country club on January 29. Plans have been under way since long before the Christmas vacation and alumnae and guests are expected from distant points.

Alpha Chi Library

ALPHA CHI's library consists of fiction of all times and types, poetry, stories of operas and plays, Theta history and magazines, and a reference unit of encyclopedias and old text books.

Lafayette alumnae chapter has been in charge of the library. There have been many book gifts from friends. The alumnae chapter library committee also includes an active member of Alpha Chi.

We are discussing the idea of establishing a chapter library fund too. Purdue groups are paid for housing and feeding representatives sent here to agricultural conferences. Previously this money has been used for necessities, but from now on will form the library fund.

Alpha Chi is proud of its library and even though it is still small, it has a fine start.

GLENORA CULLIPHER

Jungle Discoveries

AMONG unsung heroes and heroines of today are fraternity editors, who plunge regularly into the uncharted wilderness of chapter letters with no weapons but a frail blue-pencil, a dictionary, and a handbook of style. Some of the things they meet in that jungle would make your hair stand on end. However, rare and valuable flora and fauna are also met.

Fascinating "Finds" of Chapter Letters

The most members voted the Most thisa-and-thata at Vermont (Lambda) . . . A star-spangled dance and a budding Sonja Henie at U.S.C. (Omicron) . . . a bunch of smart freshmen and a Fred Waring singer at Northwestern (Tau) . . . a good Disney parody at Wisconsin (Psi) . . . New houses planned at California and Missouri (Omega and Alpha Mu) . . . Scholarship stunts at Ohio State and Denison (Alpha Gamma and Beta Tau) . . . Latest of a long line of honorary majors at Washington U. (Alpha Iota) . . . New university presidents at Oregon and Tulane, a new principal at McGill, a new chancellor at Vanderbilt (Alpha Xi, Alpha Phi, Beta Psi and Alpha Eta) . . . Some generous pledges at Oklahoma (Alpha Omicron) . . . Lots of Panhellenic fun at Ohio Wesleyan, Syracuse, Ohio State, Pittsburgh, Drake, William and Mary (Gamma deuteron, Chi, Alpha Gamma, Alpha Omega, Beta Kappa and Beta Lambda) . . . A Florida Christmas tree and a Theta wedding (Beta Nu) . . . Skiing, skating, tennis, and swimming at Colorado college—whee! (Beta Omega) . . . First Founders'-day celebrations at Athens, Georgia, and London, Ontario (Gamma Delta and Gamma Epsilon).

Jungle Difficulties

No deadly animals were met, but many minor pests assailed the explorer. Five of the noxious litterae scripsensis (hand-written chapter letters) had to be dealt with before the party could proceed. . . . A strong miasma of debilitas finalensis (finals fever) hung over the jungle and obscured the view. . . . Three interesting specimens were captured in pairs, where as only one of each was required (two chapter letters apiece from three chapters). The sting of the "Pan-Hellenic" was felt once or twice, and there were swarms of "actives" and "alumni" which greatly impeded the party's progress. . . . The underbrush seemed unusually thick. In places there was a heavy growth of The-chapter-has-had-a-busy-semester, we-are-eagerly-looking-forward-to-the-coming-term, Since-our-last-letter-much-of-interest-has-happened, and After-a-glorious-holiday-we-are-ready-for-work. This was easily cleared away by our trusty weapon, but some time was lost. . . .

Since our last trip the faint prick of the very-successful-party is much less frequent. However, we met and slew more poisonous forms of Founders'-day than we had ever heard of, while there was only one specimen of the true or non-poisonous Founders'-day (correct as written here). . . . For those who are coming on the next expedition, we recommend an earnest study of the editor's manual in the College chapter handbook, so that they may learn and avoid all these perils of the jungle.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA LOAN AND FELLOWSHIP COMMITTEE

Board of Directors

New York	Fellowship
Pittsburgh	Research
Indianapolis	Publicity
Spokane	Ways and Means
Nashville	Ways and Means
Los Angeles	Undergraduate Loans Chairman

Los Angeles Committee:

Chairman: Grace W. Lavayea, 836 South Irolo st. Los Angeles, Calif.

Secretary: Helen Pratt, 1257 4th av. Los Angeles, Calif.

Financial Secretary: Ray Hanna, 216 S. Manhattan pl. Los Angeles, Calif.

Procedure for application. For information and application blanks, for undergraduate loans, write the corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Pratt, 1257 4th av. Los Angeles, Calif. A clear statement concerning needs, activities, health, scholarship, amount desired, and prospects for repayment will aid the committee in consideration of an application. Letters of recommendation from the chapter president and from an alumna adviser are requested. Loans are made for $50 and larger amounts. Interest is 4 per cent payable annually. Endorsement of note of beneficiary by two financially responsible parties, preferably Thetas, is required. Each applicant is considered as a special case. Money is available for loans. Applications will be accepted from graduate students as well as undergraduates.

All checks for gifts to the Fund should be made payable to Los Angeles alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta and sent to the financial secretary, Miss Ray Hanna, 216 S. Manhattan pl. Los Angeles, Calif.

A contribution to this Fund is a gift in perpetuity. The Fund is constantly revolving; it is never spent. Fellowships are maintained only by accrued interest on principal. The Loan and fellowship committee endeavors to meet the pressing financial needs of undergraduate Thetas. Without assistance, many Thetas could not obtain their degrees which will increase their earning capacity. Resources within ourselves, developed by education, are of supreme importance in this present reorganization of society. Donors to this Fund are meeting the national challenge for the maintenance of educational standards. They are participating in a creative program, so vital to our fraternity, community, and nation.

If you want money, we have it.
